Non-Stop Coast To Coast Trip Failure

Giant T-2 Plane Forced To Descend Near Indianapolis After Traveling 2,060 Miles.

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 4.—Lieutenants Oakley Kelly and John Macready, attempting a trans-continental air flight, were forced down at Fort Benjamin Harrison, near here, at 9:15 today. A cracked water jacket is said to have forced the aviators to descend.

MEN UNINJURED.

According to the officers, the radiator sprung a leak shortly after they left San Diego, but it did not become serious until near Indianapolis. Neither of the men was injured in the landing, which took place on the military aviation field. The men said they had traveled 2,060 miles.

OVER ILLINOIS.

Chicago, Nov. 4.—The giant monoplane T-2, in which Lieutenants John A. Macready and Oakley Kelly started a non-stop trans-continental flight from San Diego, Calif., to New York city, at dawn yesterday was believed early today to be over southern Illinois or to have passed on into Indiana.

Despite the fact nothing has been heard from the huge craft since it flew over Pratt, Kans., at 10:10 o'clock last night army officers and others interested in the flight believed all was well and that the craft was continuing to tear eastward through the air at approximately 110 miles an hour.

NEW DISTANCE RECORD.

Washington, Nov. 4.—Although they did not succeed in their attempt to fly across the continent without a landing, Lieutenants Macready and Kelly, piloting the army airplane T-2, are believed by air service officials here to have set a new distance record by their non-stop flight from San Diego, Calif., to Indianapolis, Ind.

Vennum in the Champaign county circuit court, was affirmed today by the appellate court. Stevick sued to recover $12,000 which he said had been the cost of defending himself in an involuntary bankruptcy proceeding brought against him by Vennum.

When the bankruptcy trial came up in East St. Louis neither Vennum nor his attorney appeared and the case against the publisher was dismissed. Then Stevick sued for damages, receiving the above judgment.

DeValera is believed to have escaped from the house last night. Commandant General Ernest O'Malley, one of the most active of the Republican leaders, was dangerously wounded and arrested.

Shiela Humphries, daughter of the owner of the house and niece of O'Rahilly, was slightly wounded. She was arrested.

Andrew Carnegie Placed 600,000 on Pension List

New York, Nov. 4.—On the tombstone of the iron master, Andrew Carnegie, in Sleepy Hollow cemetery, is the epitaph he wrote:

"Here lies a man who knew how to enlist in his service better men than himself."

PRACTICAL OVERTONE.

Documents made public Friday and filed in the appellate division of the supreme court in support of an appeal asking that a $4,500,000 pension fund created by Carnegie's will be declared untaxable, sounded a practical overtone to the keynote of the epitaph.

600,000 ON LIST.

The documents showed that 600,000 men and women, most of them more than sixty, and many more than eighty years old, were on the pension list of the Scotch iron master who died in 1919. Some of the beneficiaries receive $10 a month, others get incomes that approximate $5,000 yearly.

Some are workmen grown too old for their trades; some have been downed by sudden misfortune. One of them is a viscount of London, another is the widow of a railroad engineer.

But most of them are "men who were enlisted in the service of Andrew Carnegie."

MIKE HAD $2,200; STRANGERS APPEAR; NOW HAS EXPERIENCE

The currency that he treated was placed in a box and the men departed, promising to return in a few days and receive their fee.

Friday Aleksi opened the box and found only the strips of paper.

ILLINOIS NOT BALLOT MAD

Hardly a Ripple Shows to Denote Interest in Tuesday Election.

Chicago, Nov. 4.—A quiet off-year campaign opened its final drive in Illinois today with hardly a ripple above the surface to show there was agitation beneath.

The state as a whole has failed to show any marked enthusiasm for the problems at issue—a wet and dry fight, state soldiers' bonus referendum, election of congressmen, legislature, state treasurer superintendent of public instruction, university trustees and county offices.

SOME INTEREST.

Here and there have been eruptions with all the intensity an old time politician could desire. Down in the eighteenth district there is a hot fight over the congressional seat which "Uncle Joe" Cannon has been holding down for most of the last forty-six years.

In the sixteenth (Peoria) district there is a wet and dry battle on, with William E. Hull, who defeated Congressman Clifford Ireland for the Republican nomination classed a wet although he has maintained prohibition is not an issue.

CHICAGO'S FIGHT.

In Chicago, where a special grand jury has been busy for two months indicting school trustees, employes and contractors of the graft charges, the fight as usual is centered around the personality of Mayor William Hale Thompson and his principal backer, Fred Lundin.

QUIET IN WISCONSIN.

[By The Associated Press]

Milwaukee, Wis., Nov. 4.—The political campaign in Wisconsin, following the overwhelming vote of the progressive Republican ticket headed by Senator Robert LaFollette, has been the quietest for many years, it being generally conceded that next Tuesday's vote will be ratification of the primary endorsement as far as the senior senator and state ticket are concerned.

MISSOURI'S FIGHT.

[By The Associated Press.]

St. Louis, Nov. 4.—As the Missouri campaign draws to a close, astute political observers declare the senatorial race between Senator James A. Reed, Democrat, and R. R. Brewster, Republican, will be marked by defections on both tickets.

A goodly number of "wet" Republicans they say, will swing to Reed while Brewster will receive the support of a large number of "dry" Democratic and Democrats who are dissatisfied with Reed because of his opposition to former President Wilson.

The occupants were only slightly bruised.

Opal Arthur Convicted; Death Penalty Imposed

Alleged Slayer of Charles Martin Receives Verdict of Piatt County Jury Friday in Stolid Silence.

GEORGE OPAL ARTHUR.
Convicted as Slayer of Charles Martin.

Monticello, Nov. 4— George Opal Arthur was convicted in the circuit court here Friday afternoon of the murder of Charles Martin, after five hours' deliberation by the jury, which fixed the penalty at death.

As the verdict of the jury was read at 4:15, Arthur sat unmoved, maintaining the same stolid demeanor that had characterized him through the long trial and giving no indication of the thoughts that were passing through his mind.

FATHER ALONE WITH HIM.

Of his immediate relatives, Opal's father alone was with his son when the fateful words were spoken, and no member of the slain youth's family was present.

When word came shortly before four o'clock that the jury, to which the case had been committed at 10:50 a. m., was ready to report, the court room quickly filled with spectators and nearly every seat was taken. There was no demonstration, however, and complete quiet reigned during and after the announcement of the verdict.

NEW TRIAL ASKED.

None of Arthur's attorneys was in the room when the jury reported, but they had arranged for an immediate motion for a new trial for their client, and this was entered. Judge G. A. Sentel designated Monday, Nov. 27, as the date on which the arguments on this motion will be argued.

THE CHARGE.

Opal Arthur was charged by the state with having shot Charles Martin twice, the night of Dec. 30, 1921, and then with beating him to death with some blunt instrument. Arthur, though not taking the stand in his own defense, presented his story through Mrs. Della Cox, in charge of the Red Cross work in Piatt county, who related a story told to her by Opal, to the effect that Martin was a member of a gang of bootleggers and was killed by his associates in that gang. An effort also was made by the defense to establish the fact of Arthur's insanity.

BODY IN RIVER.

The body of Martin, with skull crushed, brain beaten to a pulp and two bullet holes in the head, was found six days after the crime in the waters of the Sangamon river, near the Croninger bridge, south of Cisco. Feeling ran high throughout Piatt county, and Opal Arthur, who the state alleged killed Martin because the latter had threatened court proceedings to compel the repayment of stolen money, was taken out of the county.

LONG TRIAL.

The trial began Monday, Oct. 2, and it was not until near the middle of the next week that the jury was procurred. The case then wound its deliberate way to a conclusion Friday, Nov. 3, nearly five weeks after its beginning.

BIG INCREASE IN P. O. RECEIPTS

No Increase in Carrier or Clerical Forces.

While the Decatur postoffice receipts have more than doubled in the past ten years, in fact have increased about 135 per cent, the carrier and clerical forces of the office have in no way been increased in proportion. Local postoffice officials were attracted several days ago by an item in The Review's "Ten Years Ago" column, telling of the postoffice receipts for the month of October 1912. It caused the officials to start making some comparisons.

In October 1912, the receipts at the Decatur office were $11,628 and the receipts for the month of October just passed, while not entirely compiled, will be $26,000. Ten years ago at this time, the Decatur postoffice had seventeen clerks and twenty-four carriers with less than $12,000 monthly receipts. Now, with receipts at $26,000, the office has twenty-seven clerks and thirty carriers. This also includes the six carriers which the postal department has just allowed to be added to the force.

It is expected that the dinner will be held on the night of Dec. 8 although this date may be changed. The place has not yet been decided upon.

The committee which has charge of the plans consists of the following: Dr. R. Z. Sanders, chairman; Forrest File, W. R. McGaughey, Lynn Clark, Nellis Parkinson, Forrest Wikoff, Charles Doyle, Charles Stewart, Fred C. Barnett, Paul Lyon, Sam Tucker and Otto Kyle.

ARMISTICE DAY PLANS PROGRESS

Several Floats Already Entered for Big Parade.

Plans for the Armistice day celebration are rounding out rapidly, according to Chairman Arthur F. Gieseking of the general committee, and indications are that the celebration will be as much of a success as Decatur Legionnaires have anticipated.

Although not officially announced, the entries for floats in the big parade are already coming in from different organizations in the city, and several bands and drum corps have promised to take part.

TICKETS FOR DANCE.

Of the 3,000 tickets to the carnival and dance which are to be sold, 2,000 have been distributed among Legion men and business houses, and are selling fast.

Any organizations wishing to enter in the parade are asked to communicate with Ralph Tenney and make a reservation. All organizations are urged to enter in order that the affair be made a real community celebration.

Christler and Mrs. Margaret Carleton, was indicated Friday when the Chicago police received a message from Chief Moran of Havre asking them to ascertain ownership of the pistol used in the double slaying. The police were ordered to canvass every place in Chicago where guns were known to be sold.

ASTOR ADMITS HE WILL MOVE WEALTH

Fix Up That Hen House Advises Farm Adviser

To Get Best Results From Pullets, Give Them Comfortable Quarters.

BY CLAIR E. HAY,
Farm Adviser Christian County.

With the coming of the first cold nights and chilly damp days most of us are firing up the furnaces or wrestling with the stove pipes to get the old stove as an ally against old man winter. If the pullets are to give a good account of themselves it is just as important that some attention be given to their comfort. Now is the time to provide comfortable quarters for them. The first cold snaps are just as hard on pullets as folks.

I have seen a number of hen houses that in the main are satisfactory but for the want of some attention will fail to provide the best possible winter quarters.

SOME POINTERS.

Here are some suggestions for improvement:

1. Thoroughly clean and disinfect the house.

2. Fix the doors so they can be closed.

3. Don't use canvass in the windows. Air cannot pass through. Muslin is the best material for purpose.

4. Place the perches level and use dropping boards. It will increase the room available for other purposes. The old ladder arrangement of perches caused crowding. All of the chickens want on the same perch.

Do not crowd the chickens. Give plenty of space by selling off the poor layers.

Bulletins on poultry houses can be secured at the Farm Bureau office.

FREE OF DRAFTS.

I would be sure to see that the poultry house was free of drafts. Then be sure that all mites are killed by thoroughly painting the roosts and dropping boards with carbasota, carbolineum or some other good coal tar preparation. These can be diluted down about half with kerosene. Thoroughly means top as well as bottom, the side away from you as the one towards you and every tiny crack and crevice. An application every six months will keep any poultry house absolutely free of mites and ticks.

DUST THEM.

Then dust every hen, rooster, and chick with sodium fluoride well worked into the feathers—one pinch on the head, one on the neck, one on the back, one at the base of the tail, one under each wing, one on the breast, one on each thigh, and one thoroughly worked into the feathers around the vent. In about ten days rub into the feathers below the vent of every fowl a piece of mercurial ointment about half the size of a grain of corn. Be careful not to put on too much as this ointment is exceedingly poisonous and dangerous.

KILLS MITES AND LICE.

If you follow the above treatment, you will have no trouble with mites and lice. These pests are taking a heavy toll every day. It is a good idea to get nests ready and the pullets and hens accustomed to their place of abode for the winter. The more moving around and changing there is after laying starts the less the number of eggs there will be. A good laying mash in a self-feeder, plenty of good water, some scratch food every day and hens are bound to lay.

FEED AND CARE FOR FRESHENING COWS

Don't Skimp on Feed in Dry Period.

The Prairie Farmer: Fall freshening cows, which are the ones that return the greatest profit to the owners, according to the dairy husbandry men at Iowa State college, require plenty of feed and good care before the calving time as well as afterwards. Although forced feeding is not recommended as a general practice, it does not pay to skimp on feed while the cow is dry. With pastures beginning to die and cold weather coming it will pay the dairyman to provide plenty of roughage as the cow can use a large quantity of this type of feed.

ROUGHAGES DESIRABLE.

Wherever possible, succulent roughages, such as silage, beets and other root crops, are desirable in connection with the ration for milk cows. Not only do the succulent feeds have a palatable flavor, but they provide the cow with considerable water. It has been found that a cow requires from three to five pounds of water for every pound of milk produced.

REGULAR FEEDING.

Cows not only require plenty of feed but they should be fed regularly for best results. In feeding, it has been found a good practice to put the grain part of the ration on the silage and this will keep the cow from eating too rapidly.

Hays that are dusty or feeds that are liable to taint milk should be fed after the cow is milked. A fine method for feeding is to feed hay three times a day and silage and grain twice. If grain is fed only once the cow is liable to have digestive troubles and this will affect the milk flow.

GOOD CARE TELLS.

A poor cow, it has been found, can be made to produce more if she receives good care along with good feed and a good cow will cease being a high producer if neglected.

THIS IS THE MONTH.

To give thanks,
To eat fresh pork.
To get the oats sprouter started.
To cut and burn the fence row weeds.
To clean the roof gutters of accumulated dirt and leaves.
To feast your eyes on the gorgeous colors of autumn forests.
To watch the price of eggs mount, and prod the pullets into laying.
To stop every draft in the hen house and guard against colds and roup.
To gather a good supply of garden soil for use in window gardens and starting boxes before the ground freezes.
To see that the seed corn is thoroughly dry before hard freezing weather. Make sure you have plenty—don't guess.
To feed the young pullets heavily. Proper care this month will do a lot to bring a big egg yield in December.
To get all the corn fodder under cover, where it can be fed conveniently. One of the slavish winter jobs is hauling fodder every few days from the field.
To begin to make friends with the birds. A little regular feeding will make one's home a real bird haven, and many can be coaxed to stay with you through the winter.

—Farm Life.

BARNYARD QUEEN

By laying 324 eggs in 365 days, "Columbia Belle," prize leghorn, broke all world's records and won the egg-laying contest held by the California Farm Bureau.

90-DAY BROOMCORN IS BIG SUCCESS

Douglas County Man Gets $3,600 Crop.

Alva Watson of Galton has finished cleaning thirty acres of broom corn and putting it on the slats. He got it in in time to escape the first heavy frost.

Mr. Watson states that this crop of broom corn was planted the 17th of July, and in just a little less than three months it was in the shed. He planted a variety that matures early, and its usual run is ninety days.

PROBABLY $3,600 CROP.

Mr. Watson probably will get twelve tons from the thirty acres, and expects to get $300 a ton for the brush, as it is of excellent quality. It should bring him more cash than any other crop he could harvest from even 100 acres, and Watson confesses to a liking to raise broom corn. He expects to plant more of it next year.

This is true of other farmers, also, who already have expressed a purpose to plant more broom corn next year, and from present indications the acreage in Douglas county will be a great deal larger next season than it was in 1922.

Mr. Watson's success this season shows that this crop can be planted long after the Indian corn, and still make a good yield.

HEADLIGHTS ON HIGHWAYS

Nineteen thousand three hundred and eight miles of Federal-aid road had been completed on Aug. 31.

Ten million six hundred and twenty thousand four hundred and seventy-one motor vehicles were registered in the United States on July 1, according to the Bureau of Public Roads, United States Department of Agriculture.

There are 2,500,000 miles of rural highway in the United States.

Over 33,000 motor vehicles have been received as surplus war material by the Bureau of Public Roads of the United States Department of Agriculture and distributed to the states for use in road construction.

Texas leads in miles of completed Federal-aid roads with 1,733 miles. Minnesota is second with 1,416.

In mileage of Federal-aid roads under construction Texas is first with 1,408 miles. Nebraska second with 970 miles and Iowa third with 945 miles.

Texas and New York are the states which receive the largest allotments of Federal aid for highways, which is distributed on the basis of population, area and mileage of rural highways.

In August Missouri placed 136.7 miles of new Federal-aid work under construction.

One thousand three hundred fifty-two miles of road has been completed by the Bureau of Public Roads of the United States Department of Agriculture in our national forests and there is under construction 617 miles, which open up regions of great natural beauty and rich in natural resources.

BROOMCORN TAKES FIVE DOLLAR JUMP

Arcola, Nov. 4.—The price of broomcorn has climbed another notch in Arcola and as high as $306 per ton was paid for a crop grown by Theodore Roberts, said to be the highest price paid this year. George Barricklow and Moses Hite also sold their 1922 crops receiving $300 per ton.

Soy Beans May Sell Slowly, but They Do Put Fat on Shoats

Clair E. Hay, farm adviser of Christian county, has the following comment on soy beans, their sale and use, in the current issue of his Christian County Farm Bureau News:

"Soy beans are yielding from ten to thirty bushels per acre. The oil mills are slow to buy but Christian county shoats are making as high as two pounds a day gains on corn and soybeans. Beans are bringing from ninety-five cents to $1.00 a bushel at a few elevators. Many seem to be disposed to wait before selling and it is a good thing as nothing would hurt the bean market like all producers wanting to sell at once.

"Let's try soybean meal in place of most of our tankage with our next bunch of hogs. The meal tests about forty-six per cent protein and sells for $42. Sixty per cent tankage will cost about $68 in carlots.

SOME BIRDS ARE PROTECTED IN ALL SEASONS BY LAW

According to a summary of State and other game laws for the season 1922-23, prepared by the Biological Survey of the United States Department of Agriculture, Federal regulations prohibit the shooting from sunset to half an hour before sunrise of migratory game birds on which there is an open season, and prohibit the killing at any time of any of the following birds:

MUST NOT KILL.

Band-tailed pigeon; little brown, sand-hill, and whooping cranes; wood duck, eider duck, swans; curlews, willet, upland plover, and all shorebirds (except the black-bellied and golden plovers, Wilson snipe or jacksnipe, woodcock, and the greater and lesser yellowlegs); cuckoos; flickers and other woodpeckers; nighthawks or bull-bats and whippoor-wills; swifts; hummingbirds; fly-catchers; meadowlarks and orioles; grosbeaks; tanagers; martins and other swallows; waxwings; shrikes; vireos; warblers; pipits; catbirds and brown thrashers; wrens; brown creepers; nut-hatches, chickadees and titmice; kinglets and gnatcatchers; robins and other thrushes; and all other perching birds which feed entirely or chiefly on insects; and also auks, auklets, bitterns, fulmars, gannets, grebes, guillemots, gulls, herons, jaegers, loons, murres, petrels, puffins, shearwaters, and terns.

SUNDAY HUNTING.

Hunting on Sunday is prohibited in all States and Provinces east of the one hundred and fifth meridian except Illinois, Louisiana, Michigan, Texas, Wisconsin, and Quebec, and in some States certain days of the week constitute close seasons throughout the time in which killing is permitted, and hunting is prohibited when snow is on the ground in New Jersey, Delaware, Virginia and Maryland.

PIGEON PEA GREAT PRODUCT—IN GUAM

To protect growing plants from the strong winds which occur in Guam during certain parts of the year, the Federal agricultural experiment station on that island reports the successful introduction of the use of the pigeon pea, planted around the garden in double rows. It makes a thick growth, reaching a height of 10 to 15 feet, bears large quantities of edible peas, and is effective without replanting for two or three years.

GREAT CORN CROP IN WASHINGTON

Farmer Gets 125 Bushels to the Acre.

C. P. Thatcher of 1700 North Union street has received from Mrs. M. T. Randall of Seattle, Wash., the following excerpt from a Seattle newspaper, which tells the story of an enormous corn crop in Yakima county, Wash., it says:

One hundred twenty-five bushels of corn to the acre is what N. C. Sybouts of Moxee exposes from a field of twenty-one and one-half acres. He has raised 125 bushels before from a measured acre, and says he is certain his land will this year average between 125 and 150 bushels.

A few years ago, he says, it was thought almost impossible to raise corn here in paying commercial quantities, but year after year better corn, acclimated to this region, is being used for seed and great crops are being harvested.

MANY FARMERS ARE LEAVING THE FARM

Prairie Farmer Discusses Serious Situation.

There are many farms in Illinois that are still unrented for next year, says The Prairie Farmer. Continuing, it says: That is an unusual condition. Ordinarily, there are few farms left by the end of May.

This condition means that many tenant farmers are going into some other business. The farms that they are leaving will doubtless be occupied by someone before next spring. In many cases, however, the new tenants will not be as good farmers as the old ones. When an industry is unprofitable, the best men leave it and their places are taken by men not so well qualified, who will be content with a lower standard of living.

In agriculture, this condition does not affect landowners for a considerable length of time. They are rather permanently attached to their farms. It affects tenants quickly. Tenancy is the weak spot in American agriculture. Unprofitable prices make it still weaker, as good tenants leave the farms and poorer ones take their places.

CONCERNS NATION.

A situation like this concerns the whole nation. It concerns the landlords most directly. If they are wise they will keep their good tenants at almost any cost. They will shoulder the heavy end of the loss themselves. A tenant must make a living for himself and his family. If he cannot do it on the farm he will have to go to town and join a union. If he is a good farmer, the landlord can afford to help him through this period of temporary hardship.

The tenant who is a born farmer should seriously consider the question of leaving the farm and going to town. High wages look attractive, but high rents and other expenses eat them up rapidly. The children are much better off in the country than they would be in town. It may be worth while to stay on the farm another year and see what happens. Agriculture is a sound business and it isn't ruined yet by a good deal.

ROYAL STOCK SHOW AT K. C. THE 18TH

Kansas City, Nov. 4—With advance entries indicating a display of approximately 2,000 head of livestock, the 24th annual American Royal Live Stock Show will open here Nov. 18 and continue until November 25. The show will be held in a new half-million dollar exposition building just being completed as a permanent home for the Royal.

Beef cattle constitute the principle drawing card of the show. More than a thousand head will be exhibited. The Herefords lead with 673 entries competing for $11,255 in prize money. Shorthorns rank second with 308 entries for a purse of $6,250. One hundred head of Angus are entered in the competition for $970 in Angus prize money, and about thirty head of Galloways will divide honors and a prize list of $940. Prize money is offered by the various breed associations and the management of the Royal.

SAME OLD CANARD SPRINGS UP AGAIN

Farm Life: The usual autumnal corn-burning canard has started the rounds of the press. Since it would take about $25 worth of corn to produce as much heat as a ton of soft coal, it is apparent that even in this year of high coal and reasonably priced corn there is not much danger that any great quantity of corn will be burned for fuel. It wouldn't pay. And anybody who has ever tried burning corn knows that it makes an exceedingly poor fuel. We know what we are talking about, because we were blizzard-bound for a few days in Minnesota one time, and tried to boil potatoes on a corn-fed kitchen range. When they begin to circulate the rumors about burning corn we refuse to become excited.

CHAPTER III

A LWAYS Clinch's little pale eyes searched the forest twilight in front of him; not a falling leaf escaped him; not a chipmunk.

The slightest noise behind him. He waited, turned slowly. Eve stood there.

Hell died in his pale eyes as she came to him, rested silently in his gentle embrace, returned his kiss, laid her flushed sweet cheek against his unshaven face.

"Dad, darling?"

"Yes, my baby—"

"You're watching to kill Quintana. But there's no use watching any longer."

"Have the boys below got him?" he demanded.

"They got one of his gang. Byron Hastings is dead. Jim is badly hurt; Sid Hone, too—not so badly—"

"Where's Quintana?"

"Dad, he's gone....But it don't matter. See here!—" She dug her slender hand into her breeches pocket and pulled out a little fistful of gems.

Clinch, his powerful arm closing her shoulders, looked dully at the jewels.

"You see, dad, there's no use killing Quintana. These are the things he robbed you of."

"Paint them, that matter....I'm glad you got 'em. I allus wanted you should be a great lady, girlie. There's the tickets of admission. You put 'em in your pants. I gotta stay here a spell—"

"Dad! Take them!"

He took them, smiled, shoved them into his pocket.

"What is it, girlie?" he asked absently his pale eyes searching the woods ahead.

"I've just told you," she said, "that the boys went in as far as Quintana's shanty. There was a dead man there, too; but Quintana has gone."

Clinch said—not removing his eyes from the forest: "If any o' them boys has let Quintana crawl through I'll kill him, too....G'wan home, girlie. I gotta mosey—I gotta kinda loaf around fer a spell—"

"Dad, I want you to come back with me—"

"You go home; you hear me, Eve? Tell Corpy and Dick Berry to hook it for Owl Marsh and atop the Star Peak trails—both on 'em....Can Sid and Jimmy walk?"

"Jim can't—"

back. You go too. You help fix Jimmy up at the house. He's a little fella, Jimmy Hastings is. Harve can tote him. And you go along—"

"Dad, Quintana says he means to kill you! What is the use of hurting him? You have what he took—"

"I gotta have more'n he took. But even that ain't enough. He couldn't pay for all he ever done to me, girlie....I'm aimin' to draw on him on sight—"

Clinch's set visage relaxed into an alarming smile which flickered, faded, died in the wintry ferocity of his eyes.

"Dad—"

"G'wan home!" he interrupted harshly. "You want that Hastings boy to bleed to death?"

She came up to him, not uttering a word, yet asking him with all the tenderness and eloquence of her eyes to leave this blood-trail where it lay and hunt no more.

He kissed her mouth, infinitely tender, smiled; then, again prim and scowling:

"G'wan home, you little scut, an' do what I told ye, or, by God I'll cut a switch that'll learn ye good! Never a word, now! On yer way! G'wan!"

Twice she turned to look back. The second time Clinch was slowly walking into the woods straight ahead of him. She waited; saw him go in; waited. After a while she continued on her way.

CHAPTER IV

NO, Clinch's mind was on her. All else—his watchfulness, his stealthy advance—all the alertness of eye and ear, all the subtlety, the cunning, the infinite caution—were purely instinctive mechanics.

Somewhere in this flooded twilight of gigantic trees was Jose Quintana. Knowing that, he dismissed that fact from his mind and turned his thoughts to Eve.

Sometimes his lips moved. They usually did when he was arguing with God or calling his Creator's attention to the justice of his case. His two cases—each, to him, a cause celebre; the matter of Harrod; the affair of Quintana.

Many a time he had pleaded these two causes before the Most High.

But now his thoughts were chiefly concerned with Eve—with the problem of her future—his master passion—this daughter of the dead wife he had loved.

He sighed unconsciously; halted.

"Well, Lord," he concluded, in his wordless way, "my girlie has gotta have a chance if I gotta go to hell for it. That's sure as shootin'....Amen."

At that instant he saw Quintana.

Recognition was instant and mutual. Neither man stirred. Quintana was standing beside a giant hemlock. His pack lay at his feet.

Clinch had halted—always the mechanics!—close to a great ironwood tree.

Probably both men knew that they could cover themselves before the other moved a muscle. Clinch's small light eyes were blazing; Quintana's black eyes had become two slits.

Finally: "You—dirty—skunk," drawled Clinch in his agreeably insinuating voice, I got you now."

"Ah—h" said Quintana, "these has happen ver' nice like I expec'.....always I say myse'f, yet a little patience, Jose, an' one day you shall meet these fellow Clinch who has rob you....I am ver' thankful to the good God—"

He had made the slightest of movements instantly both men were behind their trees. Clinch, in the famous pride of woodcraft, laughed exultingly—filled the dim and spectral forest with his roar of laughter.

"Quintana," he called out, "you're a-going to cash in. Savvy? You're a-going to hop off. An' first you gotta hear why. 'Taint for the stuff. Naw! I hooked it off'n you; you hooked it off'n me; now I got it again. That's all square....No, 'taint that grudge, you green-livered whelp of a cross-bred, still-born slut! No! It's becuz you laid the heft o' your dirty little finger onto my girlie. 'N' now you gotta hop!"

Quintana's sinister laughter was his retort. Then: "You damfool Clinch," he said, "I got in my pocket what you rob of me. Now I kill you, and then I feel ver' well. I go home live like some kings; yes. But you," he sneered, "you shall not go home never no more. No. You shall remain in theese damn wood like ver' dead old rat that is all weary....Ha! I got a million dolls laire—five million franc in my pocket. You shall learn what it cost to rob Jose Quintana! Unnerstan'?"

"You liar," said Clinch contemptuously, "I got them jools in my pants pocket—"

Quintana's derisive laugh cut him short: "I give you thes Flaming Jewel if you show me you got my gems in you pants pocket!"

"I'll show you. Lay down your rifle so's I see the stock."

"First you, my frien' Mike," said Quintana cautiously.

Clinch took his rifle by the muzzle and shoved the stock into view so that Quintana could see it without moving.

To his surprise, Quintana did the same, then coolly stepped a pace outside the shelter of his hemlock stump.

"You show me now!" he called across the swamp.

Clinch stepped into view, dug into his pocket, and, cupping both hands, displayed a glittering heap of gems.

"I wanted you should know who's gotten" he said, "Before you hop. It'll give you something to think over in hell."

Quintana's eyes had become slits again. Neither man stirred. Then:

"So you are buzzard, eh, Clinch? You feed on dead man's pockets eh? You find Sard somewhere an' you feed." He held up the morocco case, emblazoned with the arms of the Grand Duchess of Estholia, and shook it at Clinch.

"In there is my share....Not all. Ver' quick, now, I take yours too—"

Clinch vanished and so did his rifle; and Quintana's first bullet struck the moss where the stock had rested.

"You black crow!" jeered Clinch laughing "—I need that empty case of yours. And I'm going after it.....But it's because your filthy claw touched my girlie that you gotta hop!"

Twilight lay over the phantom wood touching with pallid tints the flooded forest.

So far only that one shot had been fired. Both men were still maneuvering always creeping in circles and always lining some great tree for shelter.

QUINTANA'S BULLET SMASHED CLINCH BETWEEN THE EYES.

Now the gathering dusk was making them bolder and swifter; and ce already Clinch caught the shadow of a fading edge of something that vanished against the shadows too swiftly for a shot.

Now Quintana, keeping a tree in line, brushed with his lithe back a leafless moose-bush that stood swaying as he avoided it.

Instantly a stealthy hope seized him; he slipped out of his coat, spread it on the bush, set the naked branches swaying and darted to his tree.

Waiting he saw that the gray blot his coat made in the dusk was still moving a little—just vibrating a little bit in the twilight. He touched the bush with his rifle barrel, then crouched almost flat.

Suddenly the red crash of a rifle lit up Clinch's visage for a fraction of a second. And Quintana's bullet smashed Clinch between the eyes.

GUARD MILK FOR SCHOOL CHILDREN

Now that milk is served in many public schools throughout the country, the United States Department of Agriculture suggests that inspectors should make frequent visits to the schools to see that the milk is of good quality when delivered and that it is handled and served to the children in a sanitary manner. Inspectors in those cities where milk is not served in the schools are urged to advocate the adoption of the plan.

MUST BE FRESH.

One of the duties of the inspector is to see to it that the milk does not stand for some time before being used. A good plan is to have it delivered just at lunch time, or, if this is not convenient, to see that there are facilities for icing and storing it. By taking samples at frequent intervals a close check can be kept on the methods of handling.

Milk for use at schools should always be put up in bottles to reduce the chances of contamination. Before the bottles are opened the tops should be thoroughly washed. Because glasses and cups may not be kept clean, it is best for the milk to be drunk directly from the bottle. The use of sipping straws is very satisfactory. Some dairies use special protective caps on bottles of milk sent to schools.

CORN NEAR RADFORD IS YIELDING WELL

Radford, Nov. 4—Corn husking is in full blast in this community and a few more men could be employed. The corn is of good quality. While the chinch bugs and the dry weather cut the crop short, yet it is yielding from twenty-five to fifty bushels per acre. Prices for husking are three and one-half to five cents.

I Sympathize with Deaf People

(Hours 9 a. m. to 8 p. m., both days)

I know from my own experience what it is to be deaf. I cured myself many years ago. I claim to be an authority on deafness. I know that head noises are the alarm bells announcing the almost certain approach of deafness. Head noises are an indication that catarrh has attacked the Eustachian tubes and the middle ear.

HEAD NOISES AND DEAFNESS.

Head noises are the alarm bells announcing the almost certain approach of deafness. Deafness, like blindness, usually commences in one organ. There are many who are partially deaf in one ear, and do not know it. They realize it soon enough when the other ear becomes affected, as it usually does. Head noises are an indication that catarrh has attacked the Eustachian tubes and the middle ear. The symptoms are noises in the head like the singing of a tea kettle or crickets, puffing like an engine, or escaping steam, falling water, bussing of bees, rumbling of cars, ringing of bells, pulsating sounds, hearing better at times than others, or hearing better in a confusion or noise and hearing worse in bad weather or when you have a cold. At first you may be able to hear if anyone speaks directly to you, but not when in a room where others are talking. Only one who has made a life study and thoroughly understands the nature of catarrh and ear diseases, can successfully treat such cases. Dr. Oneal's experience and success in treating deafness is well known. A cure does not depend upon the degree of deafness nor how long it has existed. It depends upon the condition of the Eustachian tubes and the ear drums.

Most cases of diseased and enlarged tonsils can be successfully treated by Dr. Oneal's non-surgical method. Do not have your nose or throat operated on without seeing Dr. Oneal first. An operation may not be necessary.

Mr. Oba Snyder, 331 E. King St., cured of head noises, deafness, severe pains and headaches.

Many people do not realize that Dr. Oneal can straighten cross eyes in two or three minutes without pain. If you doubt this you can see or write to Mrs. Hemmer, Secor, Ill., Miss Julia Williams, Lexington, Ill., Miss Carol Baker, Heyworth, Ill., Nelwyn Spears, Gibson City, Ill., and many others to whom he can refer you.

Had Deafness and Head Noises

Clinton, Ill.

Dear Dr. Oneal:

Yours of the 14th inst. at hand. I am glad to tell the whole world that I am better after receiving your treatment, and you are at liberty to quote me any time as one greatly benefited and satisfied.

Fraternally yours,
W. M. GRIER.

HIS DEAFNESS CURED

Dear Dr. Oneal:

I was afflicted with head noises and almost deaf. In one ear I could not hear anything at all. I consulted several doctors but none seemed to help me. I heard about Dr. Oneal and one of my friends was cured so I tried a treatment and was cured. I can hear as good as ever now and have had no head noises since.

Yours truly,
HENRY ACKERMAN

P. S.—My address has been changed from Chenoa, Ill., to Flanigan, Ill.

Chanute Field, Rantoul, Ill., April 12, 1922.

Dr. Oneal.

You remember that you straightened my eyes in Decatur in May, 1920, and they have been gaining in sight ever since. I am now in the army, something I couldn't do or get into before you straightened my eyes.

Capt. Hickman, examining surgeon here, said it is one of the best pieces of work he ever saw.

JESSE L. EATON.

Dr. Oneal invites everyone suffering with any eye, ear, nose or throat trouble to call on him at the Orlando Hotel for a free examination, and if he thinks he can help you he will give you one treatment free of charge to show you what it is like—how it may help you. You will be under no obligation to continue the treatment, nor to pay any money unless you wish to do so. Many cases obtain immediate relief with Dr. Oneal's treatment. Take the elevator or stairway to Dr. Oneal's rooms on second floor at the Orlando Hotel. For further information, address Dr. Oren Oneal, 177 North State street, Chicago.

Teach The Children Habits of Saving

You Cannot Begin Too Early—

to teach your children the value of saving their money. It is as much a part of their education as is anything they learn in school. For of what value is education, and the ability to earn money, if the child is not taught, in the beginning, how to save it?

You owe it to your children to encourage them in the saving of their pennies, nickels and dimes—to show them how these little coins, when deposited as savings accounts in a good bank, will steadily earn other little coins for them, to the end that their savings will not only grow in size as the months pass, but will also grow in earning power.

The habit of saving should be formed early in life, for as the children grow older, they find it difficult to save money if they have in the past been permitted to spend it.

Make This Bank Your Children's Bank

While the Citizens National Bank is one of the largest financial institutions in central Illinois, it is not too large to take a real interest in the small savings of the children—and to pay real interest on these savings.

We will gladly do our part toward encouraging the saving habit in children, and will give their accounts just as much attention as we do the larger accounts of the grown ups.

Why not supplement your children's education with a real education in thrift? Open savings accounts for them at this bank now, and see how eagerly they will continue to deposit their money here when they learn it pays them to do so.

We pay 3% on savings deposits. Money thus invested by small children now will mean much toward paying their way through college later.

School Will Have Paper Campaign

Mary W. French Pupils Asking Everybody for Contributions.

Save your magazines. French school is going to have a magazine campaign in the near future. Help us to make this the largest one we have had. Our first contribution was from Mrs. McCoy. She had some magazines. Hugh Baker and Drennen Neer went to get a load. The next day they went back. Mrs. McCoy told them she had sold the magazines for seventy-five cents. She gave the boys the money for our paper fund.

EARL STONE, 6A.

THE BEE HIVE.

Our principal calls the 1B's her "Busy Bees." One day she brought some honey to school. The first grade learned about honey and told it to some of the other grades. This is what they told.

The bees have little pockets on their legs, in which they gather the pollen from the flowers to make beebread for the baby bees.

Some of the bees make wax. This wax is made into a great many little cells or rooms, and is called the honeycomb.

Some of the bees gather the sweet juices from the flowers and fruit to make honey. They carry this to the hive and put it in the cells. At night they fan it with their wings to get the water out of it. Then it is thick and sweet and we call it honey.

Some of the bees are nurses and take care of the baby bees. We do not take all of the honey from the hive. We leave some for the bees to eat in winter as they would starve.

Loretta Bailey, 6B.

OUR GOLD FISH.

The sixth grade room had no standard color in their room. The colors in the room were all tints and shades of orange.

The other day Anson Brown asked if any of the childre could bring a fish bowl. He said he would bring the fish.

Margery McClelland brought a fish bowl and Anson brought the fish. Now they have two gold fish in their room, which is the standard color in the room.

WRITE STORY OF A GLASS OF MILK

(This is a story which was in our supplementary readers and we enjoyed it so much that we re-wrote it for you.)

Once there was a little boy named Ted. One night his mother told him to drink his milk. He said he didn't want to and wanted to know what it did for him. His mother told him she would tell him sometime.

Just then he heard a voice say, "You'd better be learning," and he looked around and what do you think he saw? Five little men standing on the corner of the table. They were all dressed in white.

One of them said, "I am Sam Sugar. I give you heat." The little boy had not gathered his wits yet.

Another one said, "I am Fred Fat. I help to keep you warm and plump."

A third said, "I am Vic Vitamin. I make you grow."

Another said, "I am Mike Mineral Matter. I help build up your bones."

The last one said, "I am Pete Protein. I build up your muscles."

Then they said, "Do you see what it does for you?" And Ted did, so he drank it and went to bed.

PHILIP HAVEN, 4A Class.

FIRE DRILLS.

We have had four fire drills since school started. The time was one minute and seven seconds for the first, one minute and six seconds for the second, one minute and five seconds for the third. The latest one showed same time as the third. It too was 1 minute, 5 seconds.

The fire chief came for the first drill. He said we did it well, but we have improved very much since.—Abbie Downey, 6A Grade.

THE ASSEMBLY.

On October twenty-third, nineteen twenty-two, we had an assembly in the auditorium. The second, fourth, fifth and sixth grades were there. Miss McGhee played the piano and Miss Irons led us. We sang "America," "Star Spangled Banner," and we learned "America, the Beautiful." Miss McGhee's room acted out some nursery rhymes, and we guessed what they were.—Dorothy Schiminski, 6B Class.

Sixth Grade Improves in Spelling.

The first week we had spelling some of the children missed fifteen to twenty words. The next week it wasn't quite as bad. The third week we improved very much and now hardly any child misses a word.

NOTES ABOUT THE SECOND GRADE

The second grade has a book table. They have many different kinds of books. They also have stereoscopes. Some of the books are Bowser the Hound; Our Common Birds and How to Know Them; Orphan Annie; Jolly Nip and Uncle Rip.—Billy Loy, 4B Class.

FIFTY-TWO PUPILS SEE PORTRAITS

Miss McGhee took some of the children to the Art Institute to see Mr. Hubbell's portraits.

He is a noted portrait painter. His pictures were shown during the month of October.

Fifty-two children went.

Junior Hamman, 6B.

MOVING DAY

On October 18, our family moved from Shelbyville, Ill., to Decatur. We ate our dinner at one of our neighbors. A truck from Decatur moved our furniture and it arrived about 4 o'clock. We now live at 618 W. Wood street.—Bonna Jene Pogue, 5A.

Eighty-Eight Library Cards.

There are eighty-eight pupils in Mary W. French school that have library cards and take library books. Some take the books, just to read; but some bring them to school to find out things for history, reading and geography.

DEATHS.

A BAD HABIT.

A Bad Habit, son of Carelessness, died at 9 o'clock Monday morning. He had been in failing health since September 5th, but his death was the result of an operation performed in the 4B class. The other members of his family are quite ill and there is little hope of their recovery.

FORGETFULNESS.

Forgetfulness was instantly killed by Attention Monday morning at 9:10 o'clock. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Inattention, and he and Attention have long been enemies. He was such a thief of time that none can mourn for him. His funeral was held Tuesday in the 4A and 4B

School Observes Good Health Week

Campaign Is Carried on All Over United States.

This week is good health week. A good health campaign is being carried on all over the United States. It has been endorsed by both the Federal Government and the State Boards of Health.

This week has been chosen because it is the time of year when we need to get ready for winter and look to our health habits.

Epidemics of scarlet fever and diphtheria are already spreading because of carelessness.

Ventilation, clothing, food, heating, humidity, cleanliness, and sanitation are all matters which need thought and attention.—Nelson Jack, 6A.

FRANCE CELEBRATES ARMISTICE DAY

On November 11th France will celebrate Armistice Day by placing a slab on the spot where General Foch stood when the German delegates came to accept the terms of the Armistice. This lonely spot is in the middle of the Compiegne forest. The slab will look like a tombstone and upon it will be engraved these words.

"Here, on the eleventh day of November, 1918, succumbed the criminal pride of the German empire, vanquished by the free peoples whom it hoped to enslave."—Mildred Campbell, 5B.

NUTRITION CLASS.

Our nutrition class started October, seventeenth, nineteen hundred twenty-two. There are one hundred four pupils who belong to this class. It costs each pupil four cents a day, or twenty cents a week. The pupils drink their milk at recess in the morning. Some children bring milk in the afternoon too. Most of the pupils who are underweight are in the nutrition class and hope to increase in weight.

Dorothy Schiminski, 6B Class.

Our Wiener Roast.

One October night the Mary W. French School had a wiener roast. The embers of the bon-fire looked beautiful in the night. They made you want to roast your wiener. Everybody had a good time and much money was made.

ARMISTICE DAY IN OUR SCHOOL

The pupils of the Mary W. French school will give a program Friday, Nov. 10, at 2:30 o'clock.

The American Legion has asked that each school be provided with a flag pole on the ground. The Mothers' club will have this pole placed for us and the American Legion will furnish the flag.

A flag squad will be organized in the school. Boys will be chosen from the fifth and sixth grades, who are doing their best both in lessons and in conduct. The flag squad will be trained by a representative of the American Legion and then they will raise and lower the flag each day.—Mary Frances Irving, 6B.

The sixth grade will learn "Young Fellow, My Lad," "The Flag Goes By," and "In Flanders Field" in honor of Armistice Day.—Kathleen Huston, 6B.

The Decatur Public Library

Use the public library. It is a pleasant place in which to spend some of your spare time. The children's department is on the second floor. There are low chairs and round tables suitable for little children. On the tables are magazines and books for you to read. There are posters hanging up around the room. Some show the pictures of the different kinds of animals raised in different countries. There are also stuffed animals.

Around the room are bookcases filled with interesting books. There are all kinds of books; picture books, fairy tales and story books. They have picture books for little children and story books for older boys and girls. The librarian will help you find books. Before you can get a book to take home, you must have a library card. You can go to the librarian and tell her your name and she will give you a card. Use the library. It is free to all people.

4B GRADE.

Educators Meet.

One hundred six educators met in the auditorium of the Mary W. French School, Wednesday, to discuss educational problems. The delegation was made up of students from the James Millikin University and Decatur teachers.

The 4B class gave a demonstration lesson in reading which was greatly appreciated. This was followed by a discussion led by Miss Sarah Mark Imboden, Supervisor of

Schools Plan for Toy Sale

Will Be Held At Y. M. C. A. Annex in December.

Every school in town is going to have a toy sale. They are going to have it at the Y. M. C. A. annex, Dec. 15-16. Each school is going to have a booth of its own. In each booth there will be toys made by different children of that school.

We hope there will be many people there to buy the toys. Last year our school had a toy sale. The sixth and seventh grades made the toys.

This year the fifth and sixth grades are going to make the toys.

SALLY NICHOLSON, 6A.

The Sightseeing Club.

Join the sight seeing club and see the world free of charge. Guide Stereoscope will help you on your journey. You can make six hundred interesting stops and stay as long as you wish without any hotel bills. Guide Stereoscope will also tell you many interesting things as you travel.

This is an interesting trip the 2Bs are planning to take when they have their supplementary readers, "The Four Wonders."

The stops are numbered and these are the numbers Guide Stereoscope will give:

Cotton—207, 117 and 124.
Silk—536, 537, 538 and 539.
Wool—173, 190, 589 and 480.

—Francis Hunt, 4A.

The School Messengers.

There are five messengers that go to the Public School office for our principal. One boy goes each morning. Russel Swartz goes on Monday morning, Robert Hinton on Tuesday, Nelson Jack on Wednesday, Drennan Neeron Thursday, Handon Freedman on Friday and Billy Loy daily takes messages to the different rooms. Miss Boland reports that they are very efficient messengers.

There are ninety-six families represented in the Mary W. French school. The average number of children per family is three.

FRESHMEN DEFEAT SOPHS IN CLASH

Take Three Out of Five Contests.

In the annual war of the classes held Friday afternoon at Millikin university, the freshmen defeated the sophomores, by winning three out of five contests The first year men took the tug-o-war, which was the opening event, and the freshman girls did their part by winning the archery contest The sophs took the pole race, and the soccer contest was a tie. A shoe fight, which was the grand climax, was taken by the frosh after a long, hard scrapp

SOPHS OUTNUMBERED.

The sophomores were outnumbered in the fight, but stuck to their purpose and entered all the events with spirit. The freshmen, more than twice the number of the second year students, were full of enthusiasm, and in a number of little mixings between the big events, defeated their opponents

Captain John Baldwin, the heavy end man on the tug-o-war team, helped pull his class to a victory in the first event. The winners were required to pull the white marker over a five yard stretch. Each team was composed of fifteen men John De Beer captained the sophs in this event.

SOCCER A TIE

The soccer game between the women of both classes was a close fight, ending in a tie. The second year girls seemed to have the advantage of the frosh, keeping the ball in their territory most of the time. Margaret Hornbeck, lead the sophs, while Zelma Scott was captain of the freshmen.

Between contests the soph men started a snake dance and were promptly rushed off the field by the green capped men. The freshmen then put their colors up on the flag pole at the north of the athletic field and upon the east goal posts, while the sophs only looked on from the field.

SOPHS TAKE POLE RACE.

Bob Coe captained the soph team that took the honors in the pole race, with Pete Mertons at the head of the freshmen. Ten men astride a long pole ran from one end of the field to the opposite goal posts and returned. The sophomores won by about ten feet.

The freshmen girls did their part in the archery, and added another victory for their class by defeating the sophomores 42 to 39

With the sophs issuing a challenge to any 135 pound boxer in the freshman class, an interesting match took place while the archery was being completed. Garrold Bramblet, a speedy scrapper from the ranks of the frosh was picked to box Leslie Seligman in a three round contest. Bramblett had the edge on his opponent, hitting him almost at will, but the sophomore was a plucky fighter.

TAKE SHOE FIGHT.

The shoe fight topped the string of wins for the first year men. Twenty-five members from each class took off their shoes, piled them in a heap in the center of the field and upon the signal ran from a certain distance and the mix up was started Shoes flew thick and fast for several minutes. After a series of scraps between individuals, the men were finally lined up and counted. It was found that the freshmen had all of their shoes on, while the sophs lacked a few. This gave the frosh three out of a possible five wins in the contests.

The freshmen issued a challenge to the sophomores for a wrestling match. Virgil Byers was prepared to represent the frosh, but no acceptance came from the sophs.

EX-MILLIKIN MEN WILL ORGANIZE

To Keep in Closer Touch with School.

Plans for an organization of ex-Millikin men in Decatur which will draw the city alumni more closer to the university, and serve as a link between the school and town were outlined at the luncheon in the Y. M. C. A. annex Friday at which forty ex-Millikin students assembled for a get-together with an idea of reviving interest in the school among Decatur men.

Dr. R. Z Sanders, chairman, in an introductory talk spoke of the apparent lack of interest taken in the school by former students, for the reason that heretofore there had been no definite link between school and alumni. He spoke of the important function some sort of an organization might serve and asked for expressions from others upon the subjects.

OTHERS SPEAK.

Talks from Forrest Tile, W R. McGaughey, Ed Allen, Sam Tucker and a number of other alumni strongly supported the plan, and at the close of the meeting a committee composed of Ed Allen, Forrest Wikoff, and Preston McClelland was appointed to prepare an outline of an organization of Millikin men. The next meeting will be held the latter part of the month at which time the actual organization will be carried out.

It was decided that an entire section of seats be reserved for the Homecoming game Saturday afternoon, and all Millikin alumni and their families and friends are asked to sit in a body in this section.

"CHARM SCHOOL" WELL PRESENTED

Millikin Dramatic Club in Real Success.

"I have decided that the feeding of the mind is more important than the feeding of the body" said the irrepressible, irresistible, bubbling, babbling, cute-as-Christmas, bobbed headed Clarissa Flenniken as "Sally Boyd," the most flapperish student at "The Charm School," as she turned soulful eyes to the new head of the school, the young man who "looked like a Greek god," Vernon Hale as "Austin Bevans," in the very delightful presentation of the light comedy of that name which was very well done by members of the Millikin Dramatic Art club at the university auditorium Friday night.

MANY GOOD SITUATIONS.

The sudden collapse of a strike of the senior class of the girls' school which Austin Bevans had inherited after the girls had seen the young and very handsome new owner was only one of the many events which this introduction of a half dozen young men into positions in the faculty of the long established young ladies' institution brought about.

The play, a light comedy calling for a rather large cast, was exceedingly well done under the able coaching of Miss Eliza Thomas, dramatic coach of the Decatur high school, who brought out the best work on the part of the members of the cast which they had ever done

Many members of the cast were veterans of amateur dramatic work at Millikin and several of them had had experience in the high school as well with the result that smoothness and ease of action on the stage were features of the presentation.

MISS TUCKER GOOD.

Characters were well taken, one of the best being the difficult part of the old maid, weepy, sentimental secretary to the head of the school played by Miss Geneva Tucker who showed an artistic appreciation of the character which was exceptional for amateur work.

Miss Idelia Davis, whose work in the dramatic club has so often before won merited praise, as head of the school, seriously immersed in her work with "her girls," also made an outstanding character as she realized that the school seemed almost certain to be taken from her and ruined by startling policies which the new owner of the school threatened to put into force.

These three women members of the cast, with Dorothy Davis, another veteran of the club, who took the part of Elise Benedotti who puts the principles of "charm" so effectively at work that she captures the love of the new school head, were the outstanding women's characters in the cast.

HALE AND WAIT STAND OUT.

Vernon Hale, the man's lead, did excellent work also in spite of the fact that through a sudden change in the cast just six days before he had been assigned the lead. His belief that girls should be taught charm instead of mathematics and latin and his sudden acquisition of the school where he attempted to put his beliefs into practice, brought about the complications on which the comedy is constructed.

Homer Johns, the middle aged, wealthy man who holds a heavy mortgage on the school, was ably done by Robert Wait, also a veteran member of the dramatic club. It was a difficult character part but Mr. Wait did good work in it portraying the irascible, crotchety character with emphasis and force.

Mr. Wait makes good use of chest tones and is careful in his enunciation with the result that he puts his work across the footlights effectively.

Other parts in the large cast were very ably taken, the difficult class meeting in the second act going with a snap and vim which are seldom acquired with large groups on the amateur stage.

An orchestra composed of Millikin men furnished music between the acts and Miss Thomas had in force her invariable rule that performances under her direction must start at the time advertised with the result that there was little delay in any part of the production.

NO WORD YET FROM LOST BAG

Miss Nina Baker at the Motor club, who a few days ago received trace of the Boston bag she lost off the running board of a car between Hindsboro and Arcola, nearly two months ago, is assured that her letter in regard to her ownership in the property has been received for she registered her letter and has received the return card She has not, however, at this time, received any word from the woman who sent the shoes to Folrath and Folrath to be exchanged

ONLY IDENTIFICATION MEANS.

The shoes were the only article in the bag that could enable anyone to tell from where the bag came. The shoes were new and the purchase slip was still with them. It was the foresight of Miss Baker in realizing that someone might send the shoes in for exchange that caused her to notify the Folrath store of her loss, and resulted in the identification of the slip a few days ago

Team Runs Away.

A team of horses drawing a big wagon load of apples ran away Friday forenoon while the driver was in the Simon Huffer market, 605 North Water street. Something frightened the team and the horses ran to Cerro Gordo street and turned east. At Franklin street they collided with a city light pole, breaking off the pole. The collision knocked one of the horses down and stopped the runaway. The horse was not injured at all.

Apples were scattered all over the street and it is said that everybody along that street who had not already had his morning apple proceeded to get it.

Troop 18 Has Party.

Last Monday night in the troop room at the church about 35 members and friends of Troop 18 met in a regular party. The scouts all had a world of pep and games and feeds took up the greater part of the evening. Corn was popped, and this together with apples, doughnuts and cider filled the scouts brimming full. Before the eats the fellows both inside and outdoor games, the big paddle being in evidence on one occasion. Kenneth Lowrey took the booby prize for drinking the most cider. Politicians tell you the things they stand for. I AM NOT A POLITICIAN, but a practical farmer and business man and I am going to tell you some of the things I DON'T STAND FOR.

1—I am opposed to any increased appropriation.
2—I am opposed to any salary increases.

A Lesson in Health.

Mary had a little tooth,
One day how it did ache.
She couldn't get to sleep at night
For it kept her wide awake.
She went up to the dentist,
To find out what was wrong.
He said that where the microbes worked,
The tooth was almost gone
The dentist pulled her tooth,
Which was a painful task,
"Did you brush your teeth this morning?'
Now her mother never asks

HELP!

Our beautiful shrubbery is in danger! Who will help us save it? There are ugly gaps in it. Who made those gaps?? Do you think we children made them? Watch and you will see. Do you see that lady going to the store? She walked right through our bushes! See that great bare spot by the tree? Our neighbor made that going to his work early every morning. You High School boys and girls, have you forgotten our rules? We beg you to remember! Finally, please keep this in mind, "Watch Your Step"—Fifth Grade.

THE KLANSMEN

The fifth grade has organized a club to keep the school grounds clean. We call it the Kleenup Klan of the Mary W. French school. We elected Theodore Beasley president. For cleaning we have broom sticks with sharp nails on the end, so we can pick up the paper very easily. Then the captain brought a saw, hammer and some nails and fixed the sticks for us. We have certain boys to sweep the walks three or four times a week. After we had our wiener roast the Klansmen were very busy for two or three days, cleaning. Every two weeks we give the sticks and brooms to another room. The Kleenup Klan is doing important things for our school.—John Sims, 5A class.

Jack Frost.

Little Jack Frost is a merry man
He cost is red and his face is tan.
He paints the leaves all scarlet and gold
But as long as he lives he never grows old.

He pulls people's noses and makes them cold
He withers the roses and then they're dead.
He makes it sleet and he makes it snow
And people are glad when he has to go.

Paper Mills Seen by 5-A Pupil

The paper mills that I visited were located at Appleton, Wis, on the Fox river In one factory the paper was made of rags and in the other of wood The one I visited was a wood-pulp factory. The logs were put on a tread that took them to the big saw and were cut into big chunks Then they were sent into a big vat to have the bark soaked off Then they went to a chipping machine and were cut into chips. These chips were sent to the second story in traps and dumped into a soft pulp This was then put into the big steam cookers called digesters.

There were three digesters containing the pulp with thousands of pounds of pressure on it and it was cooked from nine to fifteen hours From the digesters it was put into a bleaching vat then stretched on a big roller and came out in big sheets which looked something like felt. This was all done at one plant

Then it was taken to the other plant in box cars, and was again reduced to pulp. Then it was sent through twelve big rollers and white paper came out. There were large piles of paper put into bundles and taken to the cutting machine and cut into different shapes. Some were put on the printing machine and ruled and on coming out was our school paper. This was bundled and tied for shipment.

GO TO WOODS TO STUDY NATURE

Pupils of 3A and 4B Grades On Excursion.

On Wednesday afternoon the 3A and 4B grades went to the woods for geography and nature study. We went down Powers' Lane. We found a hill, a valley, a swamp and a divide We noticed that Macon street was built as a watershed. A boy found a rock that was beginning to turn into soil. There was an old log lying down on the ground and it was decaying. As we went along we saw some men digging up the street. We noticed the soil.

We found some walnut, oak, hickory nut, maple and chestnut trees There was also some sumac. There were three big bird nests in one tree. We found some pretty moss. Most of the trees were oak trees. The oak leaves were turning many pretty colors. We saw tints of red and yellow on the leaves. We saw a tint of blue in the sky

3A AND 4B GRADES.

FAITH IN MANKIND IS RESTORED

One day while the boys were playing ball a man came up and said, "Let me hit it once; if I rip it I will buy you a new one." It was not long until it began to rip. He said 'I will go up town and get you a new one and bring it to your room"

One of the boys said, "Let me go with you?"

He said, "No."

All the boys said that he wouldn't come back, but before long he brought it to our room. We all thanked him and wished that we had not doubted Him.—Drenihen Neer, 6B

HOW DO YOU TACKLE YOUR WORK?

How do you tackle your work each day?
Do you scrub your teeth till they are white to stay?
Do you drink your milk as you should each morn
To take from your face that look of scorn?
How do you tackle your work each day?
Do you clean your room and try to be gay?
Do you eat wholesome food to keep in good health?
To strengthen your muscles and so help yourself?
HAZEL BOWLES, 6A.

IF YOU ARE A GOOD CITIZEN

You will not walk on wet cement.
You will not throw paper in the yards of other people.
You will not walk on public school lawns.
You will not throw glass in the street.
You will not do foolish things on Hallowe'en.
You will not chew gum in school.
You will always get your lessons on time.
You will not whisper in front of other people.—Ruth Flora, 6A.

Chart Is Kept in Third A—Fourth B Grade Room.

We have honor roll spelling in our room. There is a chart on the wall with each pupil's name on it. Every day we have three words besides our regular spelling. These words are from "the one hundred demons" in the back of our spelling book. If our honor roll words are correct we get a cross after our names on the chart. When we have ten crosses we get a silver star. No one can get a cross for the honor roll words if the regular words are wrong. Those having the most stars are as follows: Nancy Jane Brown, Nora Sauer, Frances Lasky, Billy Loy, Rosemary Gibbons, Hazel Stanger, Pauline Roquarth, Helen Ruth Chodat

Badger Coach to Don War Paint in Big Ten

Claims Chicago, Purdue and Wisconsin Are Only Schools Keeping Spirit of Rules.

BY HUGH FULLERTON.
(Chicago Tribune.)

Minneapolis, Minn., Nov. 4—Wisconsin is out for war in the western conference. Angered by the Illinois protest against Don Murry, and more by the criticism of Wisconsin athletics by Director George Huff, Coach John Richards of the Badgers declared today that unless the conference colleges dropped hypocrisy and kept their pledges regarding cleaning up professionalism in the conference he wanted nothing further to do with them.

Richards also stated flatly that only three conference colleges, Chicago, Purdue, and Wisconsin, are keeping the spirit of the agreement, and that he intends first to lay charges against football players recruited by alumni of certain institutions, and then, if the coaches fail to act, to file formal charges wholesale before the conference eligibility committee.

HARD ON MICHIGAN.

While not mentioning names, Richards meant Michigan first, and after that some others. Further, Richards declares that Wisconsin is determined to fight for the restoration of Murry to good standing, declares he is eligible, and that in protesting the decision of the eligibility board, which bars Murry from participating in Saturday's big game between Minnesota and Wisconsin, he has telegraphed again and again to the committee demanding to know the charge against Murry, and that thus far he has not received an answer.

Wisconsan is intensely wrought up over the developments of the Murry case, resulting from the famous Taylorville-Carlinville game of 1921, and charges of bad faith and hypocrisy are hurled against Illinois by the Badgers.

HAVE WITNESSES.

Informed Friday that two of the Illinois team, named by him as having played with Taylorville, and whose right to play is challenged by Wisconsin, were threatening to bring suit against him and the University of Wisconsin athletic board, Richards said: "I wish they would."

"We can bring fifty witnesses to prove that they played with that team. They are dodging in denying that they played last year. But they played the year before. We have proof against all excepting Green. Illinois says it is another Green, but Murry will confront him and identify him when we meet Illinois."

Other athletes played with the team he asserted, going back and forth from college to play while registered at Illinois, and this fact must have been known.

MURRY'S CASE.

"I knew nothing of it until about ten days ago, when Illinois formally protested Murry. We knew he had played, had proof that he never received money, being a town boy, and further that he had warned Sternaman and other Illinois players that they were sure to be caught and punished if they played while registered as Illinois students.

"Murry was not enrolled in any school, had a perfect right under conference rules to play, and still has. He demanded to know whether the conference committee has any other charges against him. If he is disqualified it is because he played in a game with a lot of rotten Illinois men.

CALLS IT HYPOCRISY.

"Now, in its spasm of virtue, Illinois is charging him with playing in violation of the rules and while, claiming to be pure, forgets that last year it pleaded for the reinstatement of Sternaman and produced affidavits to show that while he played in the Taylorville game he was not a pro, because he was not paid. I'm tired of this hypocrisy and of playing teams of bona fide students against gangs of players gathered by alumni."

BOXING NEWS.

BY FAIR PLAY.

New York, Nov. 4— Young Bob Fitzsimmons showed himself to a group of visitors in his training quarters at Jersey City Saturday—and say! Well, folks who journey to Newark Monday to see young Fitz fight Charles Weinert are going to be in for a surprise.

Bob has grown. He increased not only in stature, but in bulk. If he doesn't fight at 190 pounds, appearances are deceiving. The youngster reminds the old timer of his father in the matter of coloring and blue eyes. But he has not the thin legs of the famous champion, and his head is larger and better moulded.

GRUDGE FIGHT.

That ought to be a good grudge fight between Dave Rosenberg, middleweight champion (according to the New York boxing commission) and Mike O'Dowd, of St. Paul. Chairman Muldoon today stated that the suspension of Rosenberg will be lifted in time for the fight on the afternoon of Thanksgiving Day, in Brooklyn. It was Rosenberg's refusal to fight O'Dowd some weeks ago that caused the former's suspension. Rosenberg began training today.

MULDOON AGAIN.

Just how little authority the boxing commission had in the matter of calling off all bets before the Britton-Walker fight is made evident. The losers are cheerfully paying over their lost coin. In fact, the professional gamblers appear cheerful even in losing, because they claim that when Chairman Muldoon called off all bets, the New York State boxing commission, thereby recognized officially that such a thing as betting exists.

WONDER WHY.

It looks as though Chairman Muldoon lost a trick. It argued a belief by Muldoon that there was something phony about the fight. If Muldoon believed this, why didn't he call off the fight, as he had the power to do? It hasn't done Muldoon, or the boxing commission, or the fight game any good at all for Muldoon to say "anyone pointing the finger of suspicion at that fight is either a rogue or an imbecile."

FIRST SETBACK FOR PENN STATE

Navy Stops Bezdek's Three Year Run of Wins.

Washington, Nov. 4.—Penn State suffered its first football defeat Friday in three years, going down before the powerful Navy eleven. In marking up a 14 to 0 score, the midshipmen staged a comeback after their beating by the University of Pennsylvania last week and evened the count following their defeat by the Nittany Lions just a year ago.

In the hot and sultry weather, both elevens got away to a ragged start, but after that each side displayed a dash and, at times, a brilliance of play that furnished plenty of excitement for the largest and most distinguished crowd that over attended a football game in Washington.

NOTABLES THERE.

Secretary Denby and other members of the cabinet as well as foreign diplomats, navy and army officers and others in official life, were on hand.

Penn State twice carried a threat to the Navy in the first period, once with line charges and passes, and again by recovering a fumble, but it lacked the punch to carry the ball over and on each occasion, Palm's try at a field goal failed.

CULLEN FEATURES.

Cullen's ability, not only to get distance for his kicks, but to place them out of the reach of the waiting backs, proved a potent factor in Navy's victory. Mixing forward passes with line thrusts in the second period the midshipmen advanced 20 yards and then McKee shot a long pass. Taylor grabbed the ball at the goal line and fell across for the first six points.

Again in the third period, Cullen's punts set Penn State back to within the shadow of its goal where one of its backs fumbled after two Navy forwards had tackled him. Cullen scooped the ball up and ran the 15 yards to a score.

VALLEY WATCHES NEBRASKA ELEVEN

Although Several Important Games Are Listed.

Kansas City, Mo., Nov. 4.—While the University of Nebraska Cornhuskers, prospective 1922 champions of the Missouri Valley conference, are playing Syracuse in the east Saturday, football games with an important bearing on the runner-up position will be played in the valley.

OKLAHOMA-KANSAS.

Four conference games are scheduled: Oklahoma-Kansas at Lawrence; Kansas Aggies-Missouri at Columbia; Ames-Drake at Des Moines and Washington-Grinnell at Grinnell.

Oklahoma and Kansas enter their annual contest on an even footing, if comparative scores are considered, but there is no direct dope on the Kansas Aggies-Tiger game.

DRAKE FAVORED.

Drake, with two conference games won and none lost, is given a slight edge over Iowa State. Gridiron followers point to the Bulldogs' six to nothing victory over K. U, and 31 to 7 defeat administered to Washington university as testimony of Drake's strength. Ames has defeated Washington and Grinnell by small scores and has been beaten by Missouri, 3 to 0.

Washington university and Grinnell apparently are evenly matched. Both teams have lost all conference games played to date.

LINCOLN COLLEGE TRIMS BLACKBURN

Opens An Attack in Second Period for a Win.

Lincoln, Nov. 4.—After being held scoreless for the first half, Lincoln college solved the defenses of Blackburn here Friday afternoon and triumphed by a score of 13 to 0. The Carlinville forwards outweighed the Logan county boys and gave them a great defensive battle, but they were unable to near the goal line.

Lincoln had four chances to score in the first half, but lacked the needed punch.

STRAIGHT FOOTBALL.

Straight football paved the way to two touchdowns in the third quarter, Ridinger, halfback, plunging over in both cases. He pulled off one 35-yard run and several 20-yard gains in this period. Other Lincoln backs also found holes in Blackburn's line, Berryhill likewise getting away for a 35-yard dash and numerous other substantial gains.

Lincoln's third touchdown was secured by a pass after they had carried the ball from their own territory to Blackburn's 15-yard line. Berryhill heaved the pass to Coogan, who dodged through the Presbyterians to the goal line.

LOSE TOUCHDOWN.

Lincoln started out to make another score and rushed the oval within striking distance. Captain Alberts then attempted to push it over and appeared to have made the grade, but he was shoved back and the ball was found resting within a foot of the line when the whistle halted the fray.

Blackburn was unable to gain consistently and had to punt most of the time to keep the ball from her own territory. They reached Lincoln's 10-yard line only once.

ILLINOIS CRIPPLED FOR PURPLE GAME

Prospects Not Very Bright for Zuppke's Men.

Urbana, Ill., Nov. 4.—Handicapped by cripples and the loss of Bill Augur, star tackle, in the wrangle with Wisconsin, Bob Zuppke's University of Illinois football team approached the Northwestern game here Saturday with a certain amount of apprehension mixed with the well-known Illini fighting spirit.

The whole Illini machine was upset more or less and the backfield was almost shot to pieces by injuries. Neither Rume Clark nor Chris Woodward were expected to be in shape to go against the Purple.

TO TOSS COIN.

Sam Hill was regarded as the most likely choice to take Woodward's place at fullback, while Zuppke said he had about decided to toss a coin to determine who to start at quarterback. The selection was apparently between Dawson and Coutchie.

Coach Zuppke raked over his material and picked out Wagner to fill Augur's old place at tackle. Pat Stolk will probably be picked to do the punting and will be Happenny's mate at halfback. With a record of three defeats, Illinois faces the Purple today with grim determination. It is Northwestern's first appearance on Illinois Field since 1915.

TAYLORVILLE READY FOR DECATUR TEAM

Will Appear in New Uniforms for First Time Sunday.

Taylorville, Ill., Nov. 4 — Grover Hoover has taken charge of the Taylorville Independents and has been putting them through a strenuous work out for the coming game with the Decatur Commodores Sunday at this place.

Late Friday arrangements were made for the appearance of the strong Beardstown team for Thanksgiving day and the river town is expected to send hundreds of fans here for the Turkey Day contest.

Sunday in the Decatur game the local team will appear in their new uniforms for the first time of the season.

THE CHAMPION FLOORED

BUT TWO BIG TEN GAMES ON BOARDS

Northwestern-Illinois and Wisconsin-Minnesota.

Chicago, Nov. 4.—The war of words in the western conference was made a side issue for a few hours today while plunging backs and charging lines brushed aside the breath of football scandal.

Illinois and Wisconsin, whose acrimonious charges against each other—charges ranging from violation of rules against professionalism to the profanation of principles and ethics—set the conference agog, had more laudable undertakings in hand in the way of football games.

THREE ARE IDLE.

Incidentally these two warring institutions are engaged in the only two regular conference games Saturday. Wisconsin meets Minnesota at Minneapolis in the most important struggle in the midwest; Northwestern has invaded the camp of the Illini.

Three teams—Iowa, Ohio State and Chicago—are idle, while Michigan, Indiana and Purdue clash with teams outside the Big Ten.

INDIANA EXCITED.

The Gophers and the Badgers stake their full hopes for Big Ten championship honors on the game at Minneapolis. It will likely eliminate one of the teams from the race.

Hoosierdom is all worked up over games in Indiana today. The Wabash eleven came out of the sycamores to meet Purdue at Lafayette and the University of Indiana invaded Notre Dame, Michigan meets the Michigan Aggies in another home-state affair.

EUREKA DEFEATS CARTHAGE ELEVEN

McKenzie's Men Play Good Football Last Half.

Eureka, Ill., Nov. 4.—Getting the breaks in the first half, one of which allowed Kirby to pick up a fumbled punt and dash forty yards for a touchdown after Carthage had smashed over a marker in the first period, Eureka played fine football in the final stanza and won a 16 to 6 victory Friday.

Carthage showed a nice balanced team but were unable to do anything against their heavier opponents after the first period.

Whitler hit the line for consistent gainsin the last half while Reid, the colored star, kept the visitors watching him all through the contest, but broke away for some nice gains. Beach and Captain Ziegler were a tower of strength to the Eureka forward wall.

Lesher in the line, Osborn, Cawthorn and Sandelin in the backfield played nice ball for Carthage.

FARMER CITY TEAM IS BURIED 67 TO 0

First Year Grid Eleven is Easy for Chet Allen's Men.

Normal, Ill., Nov. 4—Farmer City high school football team was no match for Coach C. B. Allen's Normal high gridsters when the two teams met on the Normal university gridiron Friday afternoon and the final score was 67 to 0 in favor of the suburban boys, who proved to be the whole show throughout the contest.

From the start everything went Normal's way and Farmer City was never within scoring distance although at times Coach Gordon's lads were able to hold Normal away from the goal for a while. A small crowd saw the game, which was played on a slow field. The last ten minutes of play was in the gathering darkness and at the close of the game those along the sidelines could not distinguish the players or see the ball.

The Screen

Action of "Robin Hood" is in two distinct sequences, the first dealing with the hero as the Earl of Huntingdon, a crusader and courtly knight; the second as Robin Hood, generous bandit of Sherwood Forest. The story is woven from legend and fact.

The big moment comes when Huntingdon returns to England to find the throne usurped by Prince John and is told that Lady Marian is dead.

He points his sword to Heaven and swears for vengeance—"For God—For Richard—For Her!"

All the drama of the play is centered then in that one knightly figure silhouetted against the sky, the destiny of kingdom, the persistence of righteousness, the fate of chivalry dependent on him.

ARREST DEWITT SCHOOL TEACHER

Community Excited Over Whipping Affair.

Clinton, Nov. 4.—Dewitt township is in a turmoil over the arrest of Earl Pennington, a well known Clinton boy, principal of the Dewitt grade school, and his dismissal from that office by the board of education.

Pennington was released Friday on bond after he had been arrested by Deputy Sheriff William Querfield.

According to reports, Pennington is charged with administering punishment to Merle Callison, ten-year-old son of John Callison of Dewitt for a minor infraction of the rules and also severely whipping a second lad, whom he charged with passing notes to the Callison youth.

It is stated that the Callison boy was beaten until he was unable to stand on his feet and as a result of the affair it is said, the feeling against young Pennington has grown quite tense in the vicinity of Dewitt.

STOLEN GOODS RETURNED.

Sheriff J. W. Persons on Friday received a package from authorities at Omaha, Neb., which contained a number of watches, rings and other jewelry and was identified by H. L. Harms of Kenney as the goods stolen from his store in that village last March.

About two weeks ago Sheriff Persons was notified by the police at Omaha that they had in their possession a box of jewelry which evidently had been stolen, and stated it had been shipped from Clinton to Omaha. Local authorities gave instructions for the box to be shipped here and as a result the goods were returned to Mr. Harms by Sheriff Persons Friday evening.

Manuel Bergen of Farmer City, wanted on a charge of stealing a set of harness from the barn of E. L. Kreps of that village, made good his escape from the officers who went to his home to arrest him.

Following a warrant sworn out by Kreppe, Officers Thomas Webb, D. M. Selsor and A. E. Scone, the latter of Clinton, went to the Bergen home and knocked, and a companion named Phillips came to answer the knock. They stated they wanted to interview Bergen, who then came to the door, when the arrest was made.

LEFT BY SIDE DOOR.

Asking permission to dress himself for the trip and thinking it was perfectly safe for them to allow him to do so, since they were able to watch through a window, the officers waited for a time outside the house. When sufficient time had elapsed for him to dress and he did not appear, an investigation followed and it was found he had made good his escape through a side door. Bergen is from the state of Kentucky and an effort will be made to locate him there, since it is thought he will return to his old haunts.

Prairie Chanlle, an accomplice of Bergen, was arrested and brought to the Dewitt county jail to await a hearing.

Just Folks

by Edgar A. Guest.

EVER A BABY.

Above the senseless clamor and the cry,
The strife for fortune and the loftier place,
Ambition and the urge to scramble high,
Most of us hold a little baby's face.

Here is a fairer dream than fame or gold,
A richer treasure than the stuff we seek,
What wondrous secrets may the cradle hold,
What joyous words those little lips shall speak.

Servants of Mammon! Such we seem to be,
Sordid the tasks which face us every day,
Yet, ever smiling at us, we can see
The babe that soon shall follow down the way.

Here is the purpose of the wrongs we bear,
Here is the urge which sends us after gain,
Give us the courage to stand up to care,
And sets our teeth to bitterness and pain.

Seemingly seeking gold we spend our days,
Seemingly selfish, mad the pace we make,
Yet most of us are pledged to sordid ways
Not for ourselves but for a baby's sake.

Your Health

Importance of Water.

BY DR. H. H. BISHOP.

Count up how many uses there are for water in the human. And then judge from this number how important a part water plays in our life. It's astonishing.

The human body is built up of countless millions of cells, each one surrounded by a fluid medium—the blood—and the cells themselves are largely composed of water, too. In fact, about 60 per cent of the human body consists of this element. The cells get their nutrition from the blood and cast off their waste matter into it. So, when too little fluid is supplied, the blood maintains a higher specific gravity and the poisonous waste products of tissue or cell are cast off very imperfectly. Thus the body is poisoned by its own excretions.

The uses of water in the body have been summarized as follows:

1. It is incorporated in the tissues.
2. It is the chief ingredient of all fluids of the body—insuring their proper degree of dilution.
3. It prevents friction by moistening the membranes.
4. It distributes the food to the tissues and removes waste matters, through the work of the blood.
5. It regulates the temperature by absorption and evaporation.
6. It distributes the body heat.

The quantity of water required by each individual will vary according to his size and the nature of his work, but a safe estimate is from two and a half to three pints a day.

The deprivation of water means death to every living thing. One may live without eating for weeks, but without water he would die in a few days. However, excessive consumption also has its bad effects, so care should be taken to take enough but not too much.

NOT SO EASY TO GET DIVORCE

Judge Baldwin Investigates Litigants.

In the divorce case of Eunice Newcomb vs. Raymond B. Newcomb, Judge Baldwin heard further evidence in the circuit court Friday morning. Mrs. Newcomb charged her husband with desertion. Most of the testimony was heard several days ago and the case was then taken under advisement.

In the meantime Judge Baldwin had conducted a little investigation of his own and he learned that the woman had a police record. This the woman at first denied Friday morning, and he announced he would hold the case open for further testimony before deciding whether he should grant her a divorce. Judge Baldwin said that the woman had been arrested in company with other men, and had also been a visitor to the club.

It is not so easy to get divorced as it was a few years ago. Usually when the defendant failed to appear it was an easy matter to secure a divorce. Judge Baldwin had ruled that the complainant must come into court with clean hands, and if he has any reason to suspect anything wrong he investigates the case from both sides.

POLITICS QUIET IN DOUGLAS CO.

Little Interest in Approaching Election.

Tuscola, Nov. 4—With only a few remaining days before the general election the political pot has hardly been made to boil or even simmer in Douglas county. At least that is the general appearance to the private citizen who is neither an office holder nor a politician. For the county offices in this county there are contests on but two of the places.

The Republican county ticket is headed with the name of D. H. Wamsley for re-election to the office of county judge and he has no opponent on any of the other tickets. Charles A. Hawkins is a candidate for re-election to the office of county clerk, and he is opposed on the Democratic ticket by William R. Harvey of near Hindsboro.

Dale Howard is the Republican candidate for county treasurer and is opposed by C. Ward Henson of Tuscola, on the Democratic ticket. Mr. Howard is the son of Theodore F. Howard, who is just finishing his term as county treasurer. The young man who is now a candidate for the office has been his father's deputy during his term of office. Mr. Henson, his opponent, is making a strenuous fight for the office and that appears to be the only real contest in this county.

UNOPPOSED.

Harley M. Ellars for county sheriff, and E. E. Gere, for re-election to the office of county superintendent of schools, are unopposed on any of the other tickets.

It is freely predicted that on the congressional and legislative tickets there will be a great deal of mixing of the vote.

"WET" OR "DRY."

Party lines likely will be held in very light regard on those tickets and the wet and dry issue probably will be the determining factor in more votes than the party affiliation of the candidates. Very little is heard concerning the soldiers bonus question, but those who express themselves seem to favor the measure. The vote on the modification of the Volstead law probably will be very light as those who are opposing the modification are urgently advocating that the matter be ignored entirely by the voters.

C. OF C. DINNER.

The regular monthly meeting and dinner by the Tuscola Chamber of Commerce will be held on Monday evening at the headquarters of the organization. The dinner will be served at six o'clock by the Young Women's Home Missionary Society of the Methodist church. The Woman's Home Missionary Society of the Tuscola Methodist church met Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. L. O. Hackett. There was a very large attendance. Mrs. L. K. # Help That Aching Back!

ACHE, ache, ache—all day long that nagging bachacke! You get up in the morning lame, stiff—achy all over. And so you spend the day—wornout and miserable. Evening comes and finds you barely able to drag yourself to bed. Tomorrow the same weary round of suffering. But why continue in this unhappy condition? Why not look to your kidneys, which are so likely at fault That dull, unceasing backache, is often Nature's first signal of hidden kidney weakness. Other warnings quickly follow, such as distressing kidney action, headaches, dizziness, and knife-like pains when you stoop or lift. Don't wait for serious trouble. Use Doan's Kidney Pills before it is too late. Doan's have helped thousands and should help you. Ask your neighbor!

Read How These Decatur Folks Found Relief:

—WILLIAM HERBERT, retired grain merchant, 159 West William Street, says: "My kidneys acted irregularly, causing me to get up ten times during the night. My head ached in the top and back. I seemed to have a dizzy sort of feeling come over me. One of my friends told me to get Doan's Kidney Pills and I did. I got immediate relief from using them and have always had good results whenever I have used them."

Mr. Herbert gave the above statement on July 27, 1917, and on June 2, 1921, he added: "Since recommending Doan's I have only used them on one or two occasions."

MRS. C. E. STARK, 236 East Orchard Street, says: "I had continual pains and aches in my back and kidneys. Dizzy spells came over me, when everything seemed to get black in front of me. There was also a tendency for the kidneys to be active and water sacs hung under my eyes. A member of my family had used Doan's Kidney Pills with good results and I thought they would help me. About two boxes of Doan's stopped all the trouble and I was cured."

A. F. GEBHART, Retired, 1104 North Water Street, says: "I am giving this recommendation for Doan's Kidney Pills because I have always found them very reliable in relieving backache and stinging pains through my back. Also, when my kidneys show a tendency to act too freely, causing annoyance, Doan's Kidney Pills have always proved just the remedy my kidneys required. They make my kidneys strong and healthy again."

Turtles Do Not Feed Little Ones

Curious Animal Interests Children.

BY MARY SHAMAN.

Do you boys and girls ever see turtles? And if you do, did you ever think what funny creatures they are? Turtles have the queerest ways. You know they carry shells on their backs and they can completely hide themselves in these shells. Some of them, if they are turned over on their backs, have to stay there for a little time, or until they can get some help. They walk on land and they swim in the water. But when they walk they seem to be so very awkward that they can be caught very easily. When they get into the water, Oh! how fast they can move! Their feet are made just right to help them to swim.

WATCHES THEM SWIM.

I know a little girl who will walk a long way if she thinks she has a chance to see turtles take to the water. She will creep out on a sand bar along the lake until she finds a number of nice lazy turtles asleep. When they hear her and wake up and jump into the water she thinks it is lots of fun. She says she sometimes finds a number of them out there in the sand sunning themselves and sometimes she gets quite close to them before they hear her.

LAY EGGS IN SAND.

Turtles come out of the water and lay their eggs, ever so many of them, in the sand. Then they cover them with sand and the mother turtles go back into the water and swim away and never bother about those eggs any more. The eggs are left there in the sand which the sun makes warm and which causes them to hatch.

When the little turtles leave the shell the mother and father never pay any attention to them. They never feed them or look after them in any way. The little fellows burrow out of the sand and go straight to the water. More than that, they know how to feed themselves and look out for themselves without being told.

The turtles that live in the sea are considered very fine food, especially those that eat sea weeds and other vegetables, and turtle soup is made out of them.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

The Cat and the Fiddle

BY OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

Nancy and Nick looked and looked and looked for Mother Goose's broom.

They were still up in the sky on the star called Jupiter, a great big bright one where a lot of Mother Goose's people lived.

Pretty soon they heard music.

"It's a fiddle," said Nancy. "It makes me feel like dancing."

"It must be the Pied Piper of Hamlin," said Nick.

"Or King Cole," remarked Nancy. "Perhaps it's one of his fidders."

"Or it might be Tom the Piper's son who learned to play when he was young," said Nick.

But to their amazement it was none of these, for along the road came a cat, at that very instant, playing a fiddle and doing a jig.

And now you know who it was, my dears?

"Hi diddle diddle, the Cat and the Fiddle," of course.

"Goodness alive! How did you get here?" asked Nancy.

"I'm looking for the cow that jumped over the moon," answered the cat. "I feel that my playing caused all the trouble, and her master needs her. Also, the dish that ran off with the spoon hasn't come back. Did you happen to see either of them?"

"No!" said Nancy, shaking her head. "Everything is lost, it seems. Mother Goose has lost her broom, too, and the cobwebs on the sky are so thick that people on the earth think they are clouds. They say she has started to ride one of her geese."

"No doubt," answered the cat solemnly, blinking his eyes. "But I must be on my way. Don't forget to look for the cow, will you? Or the dish! As for the spoon, someone told me they had seen a dipper in the sky. Maybe that's it! I'll go and look."

NEW VEILS WIN WARM WELCOME

New York, Nov. 4.—It is a pleasure to be buffeted by autumn winds if the buffeting spreads to the breeze one of the delectable new veils. Many of these were worn at football games in this vicinity today. One was of silvery net with an eight-inch border of leaf green. Another was black with a wide georgette border of coral.

WINTER COATS.

New York, Nov. 4.—A winter coat that gives the long, slim line so greatly to be desired seen on the way to the Polo Grounds today, achieved this effect by means of a long-waisted bodice to which the coat skirt was gathered, and by a pointed collar. The collar tapered to a point slightly toward the left hip and fastened with a big metal button.

BOUDOIR CAPS.

New York, Nov. 4.—Certain of the new boudoir caps look as though they had been put on wrong end foremost. There is a deep ruffle from ear to ear in the back, but only a bit of ribbon across the forehead. The arrangement, however, is an eminently practical one for the lady with tousled hair.

PRIME FAVORITES.

New York, Nov. 4.—Gold and silver and ivory are to be prime favorites among the colors in which the fashionable woman is selecting her accessories for the operatic season. Slippers of gold or silver brocade will take stockings in gold, silver and blonde. Cigarette cases and holders in gold and ivory are smart, and there is starting a vogue for ivory tinted gloves.

ON YOUR HIP

It is said that prohibition brought the hip into prominence. But international fashions have done more. They have made it the smart starting point for drapery, overpaneling and pleats. And in order to draw still further attention to this hip style there is the cabochon. It may be of beads. Or embroidery. It may be a buckle—but it serves to emphasize the folds, pleats and tucks that are used in the new sidewise styles which give a smart flat effect front and back.

You might not think that this long-waisted style would influence a hem. But it does. Invariably it slips away from the regular straight hemline and does all sorts of delightful Bohemian things. Sometimes it extends to the ground, or when a panel is used it ends in points, other times it flares. Whatever course it takes it remains true to smartness.

Fashion Hints

Coat Has Train.

One of the most gorgeous fur coats ever designed has just been completed for a motion picture actress. It is made of Russian ermine lined with burnt orange velvet appliqued with silver. A long, double train is attached at the waistline and a large diamond buckle fastens the garment at the low waistline.

Colors for Spring.

Brighter colors are the proper coverings for winter. For spring the following colors are to be the vogue: Gray, fallow, sandalwood, rosewood, bittersweet, sunburst, almond green, navy, indo and mephisto.

Empire Effects.

Empire effects are noticed in the new modes. A stunning evening frock of yellow satin is cut with a straight sheath skirt and a very short bodice. The pearl girdle begins at the end of the low V. A high Medici collar of real lace makes a frame for the face.

Dyed Leather.

Leather, dyed in some mysterious manner that makes it resemble gold or silver, is the newest trimming used to enhance the beauty of large, black, velvet hats.

Waterproof Hats.

A French importer is selling over smart little hats of waterproofed satin for wet weather, sports, motoring and traveling. They come in smart colors and can be crushed into so small a space that they have no difficulty being accommodated in the pocket of the golf jacket or motor coat.

WORKING GIRLS LOOK HERE

Read what Mrs. Lucas Writes Concerning Her Troubles, which May be Just Like Yours

St. Louis, Mo.—"I had troubles that all women are apt to have, with pains in my back, weak, tired, nervous feelings and a weak stomach. I had been this way about a year and was unable to work or stand on my feet for any length of time. My husband's aunt told me how much good Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had done her and begged me to try it, so I did. All my pains and weakness are gone, my stomach is all right and I do my work at home and also work for Swift's Packing Company. I recommend your Vegetable Compound to my friends and you may publish my letter as a testimonial." — Mrs. LULU LUCAS, 719A Vandeventer St., St. Louis, Mo.

Again and again one woman tells another of the merit of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

You who work must keep yourself strong and well. You can't work if you are suffering from such troubles. Mrs. Lucas couldn't. She tried our Vegetable Compound and her letter tells you what it did for her. Give it a fair trial now.

BEECHAM'S PILLS
The Safest and Best Family Medicine

Oats for women who are rushed

Your grocer now has Instant Quaker Oats, the quickest cooking oats in the world. It cooks to perfection in 3 to 5 minutes.

The same extra quality as in regular Quaker Oats. Both are flaked from queen grains only—just the rich, plump, flavory oats. Both have that matchless flavor which makes Quaker Oats supreme.

But in Instant Quaker the oats are cut before flaking. They are rolled very thin and partly cooked. So the flakes are smaller and thinner—that is all. And the small, thin flakes cook quickly.

Get the style you want. The Instant Quaker is marked "Instant" on the label.

After using Father John's Medicine for over ten years in her family Mrs. Swan Pearson of Oakland, Nebraska, writes, "Whenever any of my family get a cold or need building up I give them Father John's Medicine. This experience is like that of thousands of other mothers, who depend on Father John's Medicine for colds, coughs and as a general body builder. It is safe for all the family to take. A pure food medicine. No drugs.

Automobile Engineers See 1923 as Year of Deadly Competition

STOCKS HAVE BUSY SESSION

Motors, Oils and Rails Barely Hold Own—Coppers Boom.

BY STUART P. WEST.

Wall Street, New York, Nov. 4—Saturday's short session in the stock exchange was a mixture of profit-taking sales in the leaders of the previous days and fresh buying in new directions.

The market had plainly returned to the same condition that it was in before the October reaction, where special buying was going on, first in one group of stocks and then another, involving a perpetual shifting of interest.

COPPERS BOOM.

While Studebaker and the other motors, and most of the oils were slipping back and while the steels and rails were barely holding their own, copper shares were suddenly taken up along with a half dozen or so industrials of the specialty type.

The demonstration in the metal group took Wall street by surprise, because this was the one class of stock which refused to take part in the campaign of a month and two months ago.

WATCH SPECULATIONS.

It would appear that while prices of the metal had not yet risen, more account would be taken in the speculative market of the facts regarding copper production and consumption which have so often been pointed out.

The upward drift continued in the bond market. The rise kept on in cotton. The foreign exchanges maintained the same characteristics as they have all week.

Weekly Provision and Grain Report

Chicago, Nov. 4.—Assumed scantiness of European stocks of wheat together with estimates that winter wheat acreage in this country showed a reduction of 10 per cent has had a sustaining influence on the wheat market this week as again heavy profit taking sales.

Wheat prices Saturday morning compared with a week ago ranged from 1⅜c off to 1c advance, corn was a shade up to ⅛c up, with oats varying from ¼c decline to ⅜@½c gain, and provisions higher by 15c to $1.00.

ENGLAND MUST BUY.

It was generally accepted opinion that Great Britain had yet to provide for half of her November requirements of wheat and that other European countries had been getting less than enough to supply current needs. Meanwhile the outlook for domestic winter wheat was declared by crop experts to be the poorest for some years both as regards acreage and condition. Under such circumstances rising values carried May delivery to a new top record price for the season.

INDUCED REALIZING.

Breaking up of drought in the west and southwest did a good deal subsequently to induce realizing sales on the part of holders of wheat. Besides lessening the car scarcity was apparent and primary receipts were at times in excess of the arrivals last week and last year.

On the other hand, speculative selling was evidently restricted in volume, caution being emphasized by advices that more than usual of the 1922 United States wheat crop had already been marketed and that millers were enjoying an excellent demand for flour.

Prospective enlarged receipts of corn tended to keep the market for oats relatively easy.

Foreign buying and a decrease in warehouse stocks of lard were causes assigned for an upturn in the provision.

Predict Next Season To See Radical Changes

Seek Increased Dependability—Price Scales Not Considered By Big Manufacturers.

BY J. C. ROYLE
(Copyright, 1922)

New York, Nov. 4.—The automobile industry is less concerned today over the revision for cars now being turned out of the factories than in the development of new models and refinements for 1923 which will place price revisions on a new and less important basis.

Engineers are working behind closed doors on experiments with new models. New engines are being designed and in some cases trials are being given accessories which are admitted to be radical departures from present equipment.

DEADLY COMPETITION.

Next year looms large as one of deadly competition and executives are driving their engineers to bring forth the last word in more effective motor power rather than worrying about the price at which the products will be sold.

Many of the changes will not be visible to the layman but experts will testify as to the results of this work. They are going to make the automobile vastly more dependable than ever. One of the General Motor corporation's subsidiaries is preparing to install a bearing for instance, which after 24 hours' test at 2300 revolutions per minute, showed no heat. This is a sample of the lengths to which manufacturers are going to improve their products.

WAS SURPRISE

The increase in the prices of Studebaker big six line of cars, however, took the automobile industry in general somewhat by surprise, although statements by other makers of similar grade of cars reported exclusively in these columns predicted such an advance at the time Ford cut prices $50 on his models.

NO GENERAL ADVANCE.

Many executives of automobile factories in Detroit and other centers declared today that while raw material prices were rising, and that any car which has been priced too low for competitive purposes, in view of this trend must raise its figures, they did not expect the advance to become general. Most of the most experienced executives in the business said: "Studebaker is practically solving a problem that is individual to that company. I don't think the action of the Studebaker corporation means a general increase all along the line."

NO PESSIMISM.

Whatever consideration dictated the action, there is no pessimism in South Bend, the home of the Studebaker cars. There is no unemployment, no vacant houses and the building activities of the city are going ahead with astonishing rapidity. Between now and next spring there will be employment for 2500 more men at the Studebaker plant.

Now additions to the factories of the company which will cost $15,000,000 are nearing completion. In some of them, operations have started before the windows were in, so great is the demand for working space in the Studebaker plant. Upon completion the company can turn out six hundred cars a day or at the rate of 180,000 cars for 1923

WATER SUPPLY THREATENED.

Philadelphia, Nov. 4.—The Schuylkill river is lower today than it has been in the last fifty years. Tributaries are drying up and a number of towns along the Schuylkill are almost without water. This river furnished Philadelphia's main water supply.

30,000 AFFECTED.

Birmingham.—The voluntary rate reduction of ten percent by the Alabama Power company in the wholesale current rate to smaller municipalities of that state has affected thirty thousand consumers and is counted on to encourage smaller independent manufacturers.

There is some hard wheat coming in from Montana and millers look for larger supplies from that source.

WHEAT CLOSES CENT HIGHER

Short Covering Leads to Recovery—All Options Climb.

Chicago, Nov. 4— Short covering for week end in the late dealings Saturday took the wheat market to a recovery of yesterday's slight decline and put the closing range at unchanged to one cent higher.

The opening was at a ¼c decline to ⅝c higher, with December 1.15⅝ to ⅞, May 1.13½ to 1.14 and July 1.04⅝. Corn and oats followed wheat in a listless trade. Corn opened ⅛c down to ¼c up with December at 67⅞ to ⅞c and held steady at that level. Oats were ⅛ to ¼c lower with December at 42⅜ to ½, but quickly sold up to the Friday close and held firm. Provisions were a shade higher on light buying.

The steady tone of the early dealings was strengthened by aggressive buying on reports of improved export demand, forcing all options upward toward the close, which left December 1.15⅝ to 1.15½; May 1.14¼ to 1.14⅜ and July 1.04⅝ to 1.04⅞.

Seaboard reports of a better export inquiry gave direction to the market later, but free offerings on the bulges checked advances until covering set in in the final half hour, when a decided friendliness to the buying side developed.

Corn developed strength with wheat and closed ½@⅝c higher, with December at 68⅛@68⅜c.

COTTON BUYING GAINS MOVEMENT

BY GEORGE DE WITT MOULSON.

New York, Nov. 4.—The buying movement in the cotton market, which started in professional quarters Wednesday and broadened out so as to include commission house operators Friday, gained momentum Saturday.

With a private estimate of a yield of only 9,400,000 bales, nervousness over the outlook spread rapidly overnight. Volume of buying orders were on a scale that opened December over 30 points higher than Friday's close and at the new high level for the season of 25.40. Even January ran over 25c. Some idea of the demand for cotton could be gleaned from the fact that a ten thousand bale selling order in December at 25.20 made no impression on the market, while another ten thousand bale block of March at 24.80 was taken with a rush. Both trade and speculative buying appeared in great waves that absorbed all realizing sales on an ascending range of prices

CATTLE CLOSE AT LOW MARK

Steers Sell Slowly—Hogs Show Strength—Lambs Slump.

Union Stock Yards, Chicago, Nov. 4.—Bulk of cattle closed at the week's low point. This notwithstanding the fact that the run was not large. In the hog and sheep pens the total supplies were much larger for the week, and values dropped. Most of the western run consisted of feeders during the week. This is the usual thing for this time of the year, when most of the fat animals have been picked off from the range.

Receipts Saturday were, 2,500 cattle, 8,000 hogs, 3,000 sheep and 500 calves.

SELL SLOWLY.

Cattle: A small supply of cattle sold slowly at about steady values. Compared with a week ago, medium and plainer grades of steers were off 75c@$1.00 for natives, selling below $12.50, while westerns were down 25@50c. Few cattle sold above $13.00 this week. Best cows dropped 25c with others down 50c. Canners and bulls held steady, but calves showed a decline of 75c from the close of last week.

HOG DEMAND STRONG.

Hogs: Demand for hogs was strong. Values were fully steady, with choice light butchers up to $8.65. All grades were in fair demand, and few were unsold at the close. Rough packing hogs went below $7.00 for small lots, with good stock at $7.50@7.75. Pigs sold at $8.25@8.50 for choice lots.

Sheep: Some native lambs were on hand. City butchers paid $13.75 for the best while packers took some good stuff at $13.50. Compared with a week ago, most killers were down 75c, while feeding lambs were off 50@75c. Few aged muttons were on sale, and the trade showed little change for the period.

SELLING ORDERS RULE THE STREET

New York., Nov. 4—Selling orders predominated in Saturday's brief stock session, with particular heaviness displayed by the equipments, oils, motors, steels and tobaccos, which declined 1 to 4 points Mexican Petroleum showing the largest loss.

Advantage was taken of the bidding up of the copper group to unload other stocks with the downward tendency brought about by a large volume of profit taking sales and some short selling. Subsequent short coverings, together with a rise in Standard Oil shares, further accumulation of coppers and a fair demand for some of the specialties, notably May Department Stores, which were carried to a new high record resulted in some recovery in the final dealings.

The closing was irregular. Sales approximated 500,000 shares.

DUN'S REPORT

New York, Nov. 4—Dun's Saturday said: Even with abatement of buying in some quarters, the improving tendencies in business remain sharply defined Fluctuations in volume of transactions are naturally to be expected, and contraction of demand in certain lines this week does not mean that progress has suddenly halted. Recent purchasing has run beyond precedent in special instances, and has been large in many cases, and some requirements are so well covered for the present that further commitments are temporarily deferred

The sold-up position of various manufacturers, moreover precludes the acceptance of additional orders for early delivery, but in general interests being engaged several months ahead and withdrawing offerings for a time. With a wider recognition of the betterment in conditions, a general strengthening of sentiment is witnessed and a disposition to expand operations on a conservative basis has succeeded the policy of hesitation and waiting. Where prices has risen sharply because of strike influences, as in fuel and iron and steel, a reactionary trend has lately developed, with some buyers now holding off to see how far the readjustment will carry. The main price movement continues unmistakably upward.

Tom Kizer Escapes Before Wabash Limited Hits Car on Mercer Street Crossing.

Dorman Taylor, aged seventeen, son of Mr. and Mrs. George B. Taylor of 923 North Edward street, was killed Friday afternoon when the automobile he was driving was struck at the Mercer street crossing by Wabash passenger train No. 10 from St. Louis. The accident happened at 3:10 o'clock and the boy died from his injuries a few minutes later. The automobile engine "died" on the track and the train hit just as the auto had started to move again.

Tom Kizer, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. P. Kizer, jumped out of the automobile when the engine died and he escaped unhurt, but he suffered from a severe nervous shock on account of the accident to his friend.

IN HUPP AUTO.

Dorman worked for the Hupp Tobacco company after school hours and the automobile belonged to Harry B. Hupp. It was a brand-new Studebaker light sedan, purchased only two weeks ago. A peculiar coincidence is that Mr. Hupp's mother, Mrs. C. A. Hupp, was seriously injured in an automobile accident at the same crossing several years ago.

The automobile was torn practically all to pieces and the wreck was carried on the front of the engine from Mercer street to Monroe street before the engine could be stopped. George B. Taylor, Dorman's father, is employed at the Mueller factory. He glanced up as the train passed the factory and saw the automobile on the pilot, but he did not learn till some time later that the auto had been driven by his son and that the latter had been killed.

HAD TIME TO ESCAPE.

When Tom Kizer got out of the sedan, Dorman also had plenty of time to escape had he left the car, but it is believed that he stayed in hoping to be able to start the engine and get the car off the track. Had it been his own car he doubtless would not have taken that chance.

The automobile approached the crossing from the south and the factory buildings on the west of Mercer street obstruct the view from that direction and those in the car had no chance to see the approaching train till almost on the tracks. However, witnesses said that the crossing bell was ringing and the wig-wag warning signal was in motion.

AUTO GOING SLOW.

R. V. Williams, operator in the tower at Mercer street, witnessed the accident. "I saw the automobile approach the crossing," said Mr. Williams. "It was moving so slowly that I thought it was going to stop. The crossing bell was ringing and the wig-wag signal was also in motion. When I saw that the auto was coming ahead and paying no attention to the signals I tried my best to wave the driver back.

"The driver killed the engine on the track and the other boy got out. The driver started up his engine again, but the car barely got in motion when the engine struck it. Had the auto kept on going he would have escaped .It would have been a close shave, but there would have been no accident."

EDWARDS ENGINEER.

J. N. Edwards, engineer on train No. 10, said: "The young man would have escaped all injury had he maintained the same speed at which his car was traveling when he drove onto the right of way. The train was coming around the curve and the automobile was not in view of the engine cab until within 100 feet of the crossing. I could not give the exact distance. It might have been less than 100 feet.

"I thought, when I first saw the automobile, that he had time to clear the rails. The usual crossing signal had been sounded and then I sounded a second warning as the rules require. I don't know what the young man did to his engine, but the car stopped on the rails and was dragged from Mercer street to Monroe street before the train could be stopped."

The pilot beam of the engine was broken and the pilot itself was bent back under the front of the engine till it touched the forward truck.

HIGH SCHOOL STUDENT.

Dorman Taylor was born in Pana, but had lived in Decatur for the last five or six years. He was a student at the Decatur High school. In addition to his parents he is survived by two sisters and two brothers. Mrs. Leo Otto, formerly Miss Bernice Taylor, Miss Lena Taylor, Clifford Taylor and Rollin Taylor, all of Decatur.

The body was removed to the Monson & Wilcox undertaking establishment and prepared for burial.

The funeral will be held at 2:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon at the Monson & Wilcox chapel. The interment will be in Fairlawn cemetery.

OTHER ACCIDENTS.

There have been other accidents at this crossing but none recently. Seven years ago Anna Cline was killed at that crossing.

ARREST LEADS TO RECOVERY TWO CARS

Everett Luallen Held for Giving Bad Checks.

Everett Luallen, who was arrested in Decatur a few days ago for giving bad checks, had a Buick car with him, and it had developed that the car was stolen. Luallen, representing himself as H. E. Smiley, called at the Fider & Connard store and bought a tire, paying for it with a check. A little later he went back to buy another. He remarked that he was afraid he did not have enough money in the bank to pay for the second tire and asked that the check be held for a day or two.

TRACED CAR.

Investigation at the bank developed that there was not enough money deposited to the credit of H. E. Smiley to pay for the second tire and the police were notified. They picked up Luallen and the Buick car. Luallen was locked up and the police at once began tracing the car, believing it was stolen. They learned that the car was stolen from the Hicks Motor company, Memphis, Tenn.

KEPT ON GOING.

Mr. Hicks was notified and he came to Decatur. He said that Luallen traded him an Overland car for the Buick and $50, but was to have left the car there for a few days pending investigation. Luallen had another man with him and they asked to be allowed to drive the Buick around the block. Consent was given and the men kept on going with the car and were not heard from until Luallen was arrested in Decatur.

OVERLAND ALSO STOLEN.

Mr. Hicks had a description of the Overland car he took in trade and investigation of the stolen car reports developed that the Overland was stolen from Robert C. Young of Potomac, Ill., Sept. 28. Word was sent to Mr. Young and he came to Decatur. Luallen gave Mr. Hicks a waiver on the car and he and Mr. Young left Friday in the Buick for Memphis, where he will get his Overland car and drive it home. The arrest of Luallen has thus brought about the recovery of two stolen cars.

DRIVES 15 MILES; GEARING BROKEN

Man Lies On Running Board to Keep Car in Road.

A night drive of nearly fifteen miles through the fog, with the steering gear of his car broken in such a way that the car could be turned in but one direction, was the unpleasant experience of Loy Games of Latham, an ex-Millikin student, who was coming to Decatur for the homecoming festivities, Friday night.

Accompanied by another man, Games left Latham late Friday evening for Decatur. He had not gone far when he noticed that his steering gear was damaged and that the car could not be turned to the right. Determined to get to Decatur, the two men kept on with Games at the wheel and his companion lying on the running board pushing the front wheels into the road whenever the car veered to the left.

Fifteen miles of such work brought the men to Decatur at 4:30 Saturday morning, almost exhausted from their efforts.

MILLIKIN PARADE NOVEL AFFAIR

Floats Attract Much Attention.

Headed by their band, closely followed with a Frosh charioteer draped in the colors of his victorious class, Millikin students and their gaily decorated floats paraded the business section of the city Saturday morning as an opening for the big day of Homecoming.

Every organization in Millikin was represented with a float, and some very clever ideas were worked out which will call for nice discrimination on the part of the unknown judges who will give their decision on the prize winner between the halves of the Millikin-Augustana game when the silver cup will be presented to the winner.

GOOD FLOATS.

Of the sororities, Alpha Chi Omega with an Indian scene had the most elaborately decorated entry, while the Z. T. A. "Jimmy Millikin's Homecoming," the Theta Gamma "First Homecoming," the S. A. I. pin, and the Phi Beta Phi tourists car were all good and typical of the homecoming spirit. Delta Delta Delta advertised their building fund benefit with Penrod and Sam grouped about the replica of their proposed home.

Of the fraternities, Sigma Alpha Epsilon and Tau Kappa Epsilon presented autumn woodland scenes, the S. A. E. group being gathered in an Indian village, while a band of buckskin clad warriors stalked behind. T. K. E. had a very pretty camper's scene among the autumn leaves, with a group gathered about a smoking campfire.

WELCOME HOME.

Delta Sigma Phi showed the welcome accorded a group of Homecoming visitors at the entrance to the towers, and Kappa Delta Chi went into antiquity and showed the first homecoming with the prodigal son in the foreground and a real calf waiting for the slaughter.

The Decaturian float with it's carriers distributing tiny "Decs" and the beautifully decorated Senior car were well worked out, as was the Junior group about the Towers. Sophs showed the hapless Frosh being shorn of his locks, and the Y. W. C. A. advertised their drive for funds.

Faculty and students in cars who followed the parade swelled it's length for several blocks, and it was a very fitting opening of the day's events, which include the game, dinners and the dance in the evening.

FAKE COMPANIES GET MANY DOLLARS

Postoffice Trying to Stop Operations.

A number of Decatur householders have fallen for small amounts of money to a fake Canadian diamond and silverware firm according to Decatur postoffice officials and hundreds of others here have been tempted by mail received from the firm or firms.

In most cases, the fake company notifies the prospective victim that he or she has been a winner in a contest and that he or she, by simply forwarding the small sum of ninety-eight cents, will receive a set of silverware or a diamond or some prize, equally as valuable.

ALL IN CANADA.

The postal department has been bringing these fake companies to light and issuing fraud orders against them, which withholds these companies from the privilege of using the mails. However, just as soon as the postal department issues the said fraud orders, the fake company takes on another name and starts up in business once more. In each case, it is probably always the same person or persons because the fraud orders give the address of all the companies as Montreal, Canada. Fraud orders were issued against ten or a dozen companies, the names of some of these being as follows: International Silverware Co.; Radiant Diamond and Silverware Co.; Canadian Silverware Co.; Standard Silverware Co.; Hawaiian Diamond and Premium Co.; Crown Silver and Jewelry Co.

Arrangements for their part in the $1,500,000 synodical drive for a new seminary in St. Louis were made by the church board at the board meeting held in St. Johannes Lutheran church Friday night. Already $600,000 has been raised in the synod and the local members will complete their quota by the middle of December.

At 1:30 the devotional service was led by Mrs. E. N. Wells. Mrs. Curtis Busher sang a solo, accompanied by Miss Hickman of the Conservatory. Prof. A. P. Kelso of Millikin spoke on "The Witness Thou Hast Left of Thyself in India and the Light That Has Lighted Them." Prof. Kelso's parents were missionaries in India and he lived there until the age of fifteen. In closing he said, "It will take Christianity to solve the problem of India, as they have no faith in human nature."

Northern Division Aid.

The northern division of the Grace Methodist church met Friday afternoon in the church parlors, with forty-five members and guests present. The devotionals were in charge of Mrs. Herman Vandine. The floral committee reported $6.25 in the treasury and the sun shine committee reported $1.26 in the treasury. The sum of $6.26 was paid in and nine calls were made during the month. Five new members were taken in. A new calling committee was appointed, composed of Mrs. Dave Lee, Mrs. J. W. Angel and Mrs. O. C. Cunningham.

Thirty-eight dollars was taken in at the social Friday, which was a dollar social. Many interesting experiences of how the dollar was earned were related.

Plans were made for a Christmas bazaar and jitney supper to be held in the future. The dining room committee was named consisting of Mrs. Earl R. Reports of the delegates to the state convention in Centralia and the need of work in the Huddleston Home, particularly home missionary work of women for the coming year, were given in the regular meeting of the Woman's society of the First Baptist church Friday afternoon. It was decided that there will be a fellowship supper on Friday, Nov. 17, to which all members and their families are invited. The menu will be in charge of the district superintendents.

A call for second-hand clothing for the ship to be sent for Russian relief has been given and the requirements are that the clothing should be clean and in good condition. The clothing can be brought to the church on or before Nov. 17.

BUSINESS JAMS RAILROADS HERE

C. I. and W. to Put Down More Tracks.

PUNISH DESERTERS

Unions Give Heavy Fines to Some Men.

Railroads through Decatur are simply swamped with more business than they have equipment to handle it with. Saturday morning, the C. I. and W. not only had every inch of sidetrack here filled but had two freight trains standing on its main line with a third one coming into town at the same time. There was not enough motive power here to move all of these and it was said these trains would have to 'saw' the noon passenger train for the passenger to get into town.

Special authorization to put down 1400 feet of additional siding here came from the C. I. and W. offices Saturday to Road Foreman Joe McKeown, this to be two tracks with a total of that number of feet. It is understood however, that most of this is for the Staley plant.

CAR SHORTAGE WORSE.

The grain car shortage seems to grow worse and one railroad agent said Saturday that both the Staley company and the American Hominy Co., plants were crying for cars with prospects of both plants having to close down until a better supply of cars is had. The Hominy company mill has been working night and day at Decatur and doing a huge business.

The Wabash succeeded in getting ninety grain cars for elevators and mills on the Decatur division Friday, this being about three times the number it has been able to supply on any day for several months but still it did not seem to lessen the number of cars needed at the elevators and they are still clamoring for about 300 cars in order to empty their elevators.

JAM OF TRAINS.

On the Illinois Central, three freight crews were tied up at Decatur Friday night for their rest, something unusual. The train register book which shows both I. C. and Vandalia trains in and out of Decatur in the twenty-four hour period Friday showed more than eight trains.

There are thirteen crews on the Wabash south end pool freight and at the first of October, when a crew or two was added, some of the enginemen declared there were too many and that the crews would not make their mileage which they are allowed. The official mileage figures for the month are not out yet but it is said these crews made their mileage figures for the month are not out yet but it is said these crews made their mileage. It is understood however, that with only eight crews in the east pool, they did not make their mileage, and that a crew may come off of that district.

Heavy Punishment.

Stiff punishment is being meted out by Wabash striking shop craft organizations to their members who deserted the ranks and returned to work, it is said. One report is that the sheet metal workers at their meeting this week have assessed a fine of $1000 against all those who deserted the ranks and are expelling them from membership for ninety-nine years. This of course, is simply a ban against any of these men ever being able to return to the membership.

Drop Postal Car.

The Wabash has discontinued the postal car which has been running from Detroit to St. Louis on No. 1 and returning to Detroit on Nos. 18 and 4; also the car between Fort Wayne and St. Louis on Nos. 2-3. The cut is said to affect three mail clerks living in Decatur. Postmaster J. H. Hill said he had received no notice of this change although notice is usually received several days in advance.

Superintendent J. E. Stumpf of the Wabash did not know of any cut or change for the R. P. O. clerks residing in Decatur of course, but the order eliminating the cars on these two trains is signed with his initials. In mail circles, this change really means the taking off of two cars. Why these are taken off, no one here seems to know.

The mail business instead of growing lighter, is growing heavier. It is rumored, however, that the Wabash and postal department are having a controversy over some of the mail trains taken off in July, the postal department wanting these restored and as it has not been done, it is understood the postal department is taking away some of the business from the Wabash and giving it to other roads.

Name New Train.

The new de luxe Chicago-Florida train to be put on by the Illinois Central for the early winter travel south, is to be known as the Floridan. It will start on Dec. 5 and run on Tuesdays, Wednesdays and Saturdays, leaving Chicago at noon and arriving in Florida at 9 o'clock the next evening, making it the fastest Florida train.

Plead Guilty.

Gus Brown, thirty, pleaded guilty in the circuit court Saturday morning to possessing intoxicating liquor and was fined $100 and costs.

Lawrence Factor pleaded guilty to defrauding by check and asked to be placed on probation.

MEETINGS.

Ionia lodge No. 812 A. F. and A. M.—Special meeting Saturday night at 7:30 in the Eldorado Temple.

Over $62,000 in Community Chest

To Close Headquarters This Evening.

The total for the Community Chest is climbing, but it is climbing nevertheless, and the sum stood above $62,000 Saturday morning which is eighteen thousand below the goal. Small donations continue to drift in and there are some of the larger ones yet to be heard from.

The Decatur and Malleable Iron Works employes reported with amounts above $750 and the Wabash shops turned in more than $360.

The Headquarters at the Motor club will be discontinued Saturday evening after a stay of two weeks there, and the work will be continued from the offices of the Association of Commerce. J. E. Tackaberry who has had charge of the office force since the work began will be relieved of much work by the employment of an office girl who will have charge of the details.

A meeting of the committee for the Chest campaign held Friday afternoon resulted in a plan for the contributors to have a voice in the management of the funds, and it is likely that these contributors will be called to a meeting some time next week where the plans for a permanent organization will be discussed, and it is hoped that the organization can be effected.

GOING CONCERN.

It was clearly shown that the Community Chest is a going concern and that the work will of necessity extend throughout the year, making headquarters and the permanent organization a necessity.

When the plans for the campaign were first made it was thought that the present committee would continue in the work, but it is now thought best to let both contributor and the organizations that derive benefit from the Chest have a voice in these plans.

STOLEN TAXI CASE GOES TO PEORIA

William Forbes to Push Prosecution.

William H. Forbes has decided to prosecute J. R. Caruthers in Peoria for the alleged theft of the Forbes taxi in Decatur a week ago, when the chauffeur, Percy Hill, was held up and forced to drive a man and two women to Springfield, where he was thrown out of the car. The car was located in the possession of Caruthers a few days later.

Caruthers gave bond when brought to this city and is now at liberty. In the warrant he is charged with the theft of the car. The charge will be changed to that of receiving stolen property and having stolen property in his possession. It is believed there will be no trouble in convicting him of those charges in Peoria, while it might not be possible to convict him of having actually stolen the car in Decatur.

MORE COMPLAINT OF YELLOW HOUSES

Dr. R. Z. Sanders Blames Change On Sangamon River.

Dr. R. Zink Sanders is the latest victim of the Sangamon and asks that someone please have an ordinance passed restraining the river, the weather, or whatever the cause is that is turning his otherwise handsome house on South Sigel street a sickly jaundiced yellow hue overnight.

Dr. Sanders says that it is worse than "The Bat." He went to bed Thursday night and slept peacefully in a nice white house, and when he awoke Friday morning and stepped outside he found his house turned yellow with the exception of around the nailholes. At first he thought that in the fog his eyes were playing him tricks, but the fog passed away and the color did not.

Those who are not already engaged in working on the hickory shad mystery may apply their talents to this new one.

Says He Was Not Driving Car In Accident

Eicholtz declared that he was not driving the car when the accident occurred; that he was in Springfield at the time and did not know who drove the car. Witnesses said that the man who drove the car was badly cut about the hands. There were no cuts on the hands of Eicholtz Saturday morning.

MAY CLOSE PLANTS FOR LACK OF CARS

Situation Steadily Growing Worse.

"The car situation grows steadily and rapidly worse," said T. C. Burwell, traffic manager for the A. E. Staley Manufacturing company Saturday. He also stated that the big starch and glucose making concern would certainly be compelled to shut down within a day or so unless there is an immediate change for the better.

NO REPLY.

Mr. Burwell wired to Washington Friday that the big plant would be compelled to close down almost immediately unless cars are furnished. In reply to a telegraphic inquiry from there as to his suggestions he sent an answer but up to late Saturday afternoon had had no reply.

The American Hominy Co. will also be obliged to suspend operations if the car situation is not relieved very quickly.

Closing down both of these plants would probably put a thousand employes out of work.

MISS TARBELL TO LEAVE DECATUR

Spend Week At State Historical Library.

IS WRITING HISTORY

Traced Ancestry Lincoln Back to 1637.

Miss Ida M. Tarbell returned from Charleston Friday night, and began what she believes is her last day's work in Decatur Saturday morning. She will leave for Springfield Saturday night and she expects to remain there about a week. She will spend most of the time in the Illinois Historical library and with Mrs. Jessie Palmer Webber, the librarian.

It has been a good many years since she was there and since that time the library has acquired a number of Lincoln documents. Miss Tarbell got several Lincoln stories in Decatur which she hopes to support by documentary evidence to be had in the historical library.

TO NEW SALEM.

Miss Tarbell will also spend some time in the Lincoln home in Springfield and will call on Mr. Fay at the monument. It was he who supplied Miss Tarbell with much material used in her History of Lincoln. She will also go to New Salem. It has been a long time since she was there. The state park since that time has been established there and the village of New Salem as it was in Lincoln's time is just now being restored. She will also go to Petersburg which is but a few miles from New Salem. She will go to Vandalia which was the state capital at the time Lincoln was in the legislature.

The old state house of Lincoln's time is still there and the second story window from which Lincoln jumped to break a quorum is pointed out. The old state house is now the Fayette county court house. Miss Tarbell also expects to visit Bloomington and possibly Alton.

MAY RETURN.

Miss Tarbell may return to Decatur before leaving this state. She would like to secure photographic copies of the Thomas Lincoln charges in that old James Renshaw store account book.

REVIEW FILES.

The last day of her stay in Decatur Miss Tarbell spent in going through The Review files, in which there is a large amount of Lincoln material. This matter is indexed and systematically filed so that it can be examined without trouble. Miss Tarbell is a trained investigator and there is no lost motion in her activities. She is quick to recognize the value of material which comes as grist and she promptly discards it if worthless, accepts it if it is of value or holds it for further investigation.

TRACED ANCESTRY.

"Following His Footsteps," probably will be the title of the new Lincoln series which Miss Tarbell is preparing. It first will be printed serially by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate and then be published in book form. She has been tracing the Lincoln ancestry and has followed it back to 1637 when the first Lincoln came to America. He was Samuel Lincoln and he settled in Hangaham, Mass. Later the great-great grandfather of Thomas Lincoln emigrated to New Jersey and then to Pennsylvania. One of his sons, John Lincoln, migrated from there to the Shenandoah valley where he acquired 600 acres of fine land and was accounted a rich man for the time.

His son, Abraham, the father of Thomas and the grandfather of the president, moved to Kentucky where he was ceded some 2,000 acres of land in several different tracts. While building a cabin on one of these tracts he was shot and killed by the Indians.

This Lincoln genealogy is not a matter of tradition, says Miss Tarbell. The whole if it may be traced by records in the form of deeds, wills and other documents.
